TWA Official Sights Wreckage Of Missing Ship

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Major A. D. Smith, division superintendent of the Transcontinental & Western Air, in a radio message to the airport here at 10 a. m. today, said the wreckage of an airplane was sighted northwest of Mount Baldy in Eastern Arizona. The veteran pilot, flying a tri-motor transport, said the wreckage was in an inaccessible region. He told airport operatives here his ship was circling the spot until Major Victor Bertrandias could arrive from Winslow with a ground party which he had organized this morning.

TAXICAB FARE HERE JUMPS

Authorize Boost to 15 And 20 Cents to Aid Wage Increase

Taxi fares went up in Santa Ana today. Last night the city council granted a request from owners of the two taxicab companies here to amend the schedule of rates as embodied in their application under a city ordinance.

Rates in the 10-cent zone were boosted to 15 cents, and in the former 15-cent zone to 20 cents. All other rates were unchanged.

Trouble Recalled
The increase was made following trouble between taxi drivers and their companies last week, which resulted in six of the Broadway cab drivers being fined after they had demanded a $3 guarantee for a 12-hour day's work.

During an informal session of the council in the afternoon, F. H. Williams of the Courtesy Cab company and C. W. Williams of the Broadway Cab company, had submitted an application which differed in wording but not in rates from the one approved by the council at the night session.

Shorter Hours
The application presented in the afternoon said that the rate increase was desired because under the ordinance requiring shorter hours for taxi drivers, and because owners of taxicabs in the city had to employ extra drivers, they were unable to make a living wage. The owners said they were unable to operate their cabs at a reasonable profit.

Adoption of the new schedule is expected to result in greater earnings for the cab drivers and settlement of previous trouble between the drivers and owners.

Licenses to operate taxicabs were granted last night to Orvin Willard Hamel, 21, of 332 East Pine, who will drive for the Broadway company; C. D. Graham, 38, of 206 North Ross, who will drive for the Broadway concern, and Walter Francis Hodge, 25, of 412 West Camille, who will drive for the Courtesy company.

START WORK ON SEWER LINE

A crew of 40 men from the WPA started work today on construction of a new sewer line in the northern part of the city, it was announced by Councilman Joseph P. Smith, water and sewer commissioner.

Work was started on Flower street for installation of the new line, which will serve all the territory north of the Flower street bridge and west along Iloe drive and extending on Memory Lane extension to Flower street.

Germ Asleep 8000 Years

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Rip Van Winkle was a cat-napper compared with a bunch of bacteria down in Mexico.

The bacteria have been awakened from a sleep of 8000 years or more, says Dr. Ira B. Bartle. He reports direct from the Pyramid of the Sun at Teotihuacan. Archeologists in Mexico say it is the very oldest existing structure made by human beings in the Americas.

The San Luis Obispo researcher into soil bacteria cut a chunk out of the very heart of the pyramid, by special permission of the Mexican government. In it were sleeping bacteria. Then he awakened them and they started re-

'He Loves Me, He Loves Me Not'

When Mrs. Nan Macy Brill, New York heiress, returned to Los Angeles from her flight to San Francisco to escape service of annulment papers, she consulted the traditional daisy, as shown here, to learn whether her husband, William Brill, Jr., young Los Angeles sportsman, still loved her. P. E. CAR KILLS WAR DATE IS MAN HERE

Victim Run Down While Kneeling on West Fourth Tracks

Struck by a Pacific Electric car as he knelt on the tracks on West Fourth street last night, Santos Torres, 60, 2304 West Fifth street, was dead today.

Torres was struck last night by the car after he assertedly had left a West Fourth street pool hall in an intoxicated condition. D. Hill-ton, proprietor of a pool hall, said Torres had been drinking heavily before the accident.

Motorman E. J. Odell told police he was unable to stop his car before striking the man, who appeared to be kneeling on the car tracks. The car traveled 100 feet after striking the man, who was killed instantly. H. G. Brown of Los Angeles was conductor of the car.

The accident occurred at 8:36 p. m. in front of 1913 West Fourth street. Coroner Earl Abbey ordered the body taken to the Brown and Wagner mortuary.

MRS. LOVE SENT TO PRISON

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Prison shadows which frightened Helen Willis Love into a week-long trance, depended over her today.

The 31-year-old "will to die" widow is under sentence to serve five years to life in a women's state prison at Tehachapi, her mentality adjudged sane by the law.

A court hearing concluded yesterday ended with passing of the sentence which her lapse into a coma had prevented after her conviction of second degree murder last March 9.

Last New Year's eve, a jury decided, Mrs. Love shot to death Harry A. Love, her secret husband, because he had broken a date with her to dine with his mother at a swank beach club.

Dr. Bartle in past years has achieved unusual success in his study of imperishable soil bacteria.

First he started investigating the interior of baked adobe in old Spanish missions. He found soil bacteria which had been asleep more than a century, and when he extracted them from their slumberland they got busy raising colonies after a lapse of a hundred years. Then he found some inactive for more than two centuries.

More ancient ruins attracted him. The government of Mexico invited him down to tell Mexico City universities about his work, and see what he could find in the more ancient ruins.

State Ousts Critic Of Hospital Here

MADE REPORT ON VICTIMS OF POLIO

Official Says Shortage Of Funds Reason for Firing Inspector

A state employee who criticized the treatment and food at the Orange county hospital and refused to retract his report has been fired. George Gallagher, field secretary for the Industrial Accident commission at Los Angeles, said he was notified Saturday by Commission Chairman T. A. Reardon of San Francisco that he was ousted. Gallagher quit work yesterday.

His ouster was decreed by two members of the commission at San Francisco, overriding the southern commissioner, Charles A. Son of Los Angeles.

Gallagher a year ago inspected the county hospital in respect to treatment, food and equipment for handling cases of nurses who had been stricken with infantile paralysis during the 1934 epidemic. Nurses had complained about the food. The county wishes to return to the hospital two of these nurses now outside, but they have refused to come back.

AUTO STRIKE PACT NEAR

Chrysler, Lewis Work Out Formula Today For Settlement

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Virtually at the end of its quest for a pact ending the month-long Chrysler automobile strike, Gov. Frank Murphy's peace conference reconvened today.

Only the final phraseology of a collective bargaining formula designed to compose not only the Chrysler dispute but other labor differences in the motor car industry, remained to be settled.

An agreement between Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the motor corporation's board, and John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, would open the way for quick return to work of more than 80,000 workers, nearly 65,000 of them Chrysler employees.

None of the conferees would comment on what formula was relied on to settle the union's exclusive bargaining demands, refusal of which started the strike March 8.

WPA LEADERS SEEK TO SETTLE BAY STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—WPA executives sought to resume normal operations today by ordering resumption of work on projects closed by the WPA strike in the San Francisco bay area.

William R. Mooser, district WPA administrator, and his chief, William R. Lawson, state WPA administrator, were invited before the San Francisco board of supervisors today in the board's effort to reach a decision on a proposed resolution which would approve the strikers' demands. Strike leaders appeared yesterday.

TEXAS GOVERNOR ASKED TO PROBE OIL UNION

HOUSTON. (AP)—Gov. James V. Aldred of Texas, outspoken critic of sit-down strike tactics, was invited by the Committee for Industrial Organization today to investigate the oil workmen's union and "help purge it off any sit-down advocates or Communists."

Harvey C. Fremming, oil union president and leader of the CIO drive to unionize the oil industry, extended the invitation.

Cleaners Union Votes Strike

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Representatives of 2500 members of the cleaners and dyers union said negotiations will precede a walk-out following a unanimous vote last night to strike. They demand 20 per cent increase in wages, a 40-hour week, time and a half for overtime, and one week's vacation with pay.

ACTRESS WINS DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The story of Adrienne Ames, screen actress, that her actor-husband, Bruce Cabot, drank to excess, threatened her, swore at her and broke furniture won her a divorce today. It was the second divorce decree she obtained from Cabot in the last year.

TO APPLY ON MONDAY FOR CHARTER

Mass Meeting Scheduled At Labor Temple in Santa Ana

A movement to form an Orange county union for retail store clerks, first reported in The Journal, reached a head last night when the Orange County Central Labor Council called a mass meeting of retail clerks for next Monday night.

With grocery employes taking the lead, a group of clerks last night told the central organization they are ready to go ahead, and probably will have a group of 100 at the meeting.

To Ask Charter
They planned to sign up members and apply for a charter at the meeting, which will open at 8 p. m. in the Labor temple, Fourth and Birch streets.

A spokesman for the clerks said it was planned to make the clerks' union a conservative organization and work out mutual problems in friendly, harmonious ways with employers.

"After all, it's the boss who's paying us," he said. "We don't want any radical actions such as we have seen in the East, where C. I. O. has taken control." He pointed out that the union will apply for a charter from the American Federation of Labor, older and more conservative national labor group.

Organizer to Attend
Members of teamsters' unions, delivering goods to retail stores, said interest in the new organization is great throughout the county and that scores of clerks are ready to join.

Initiation fees will be $3, and dues $1 per month, it was announced.

An organizer from Los Angeles headquarters probably will attend the meeting, according to Norris Stone, chairman of the county central labor council.

Clerks from all parts of Orange county will be eligible, and the union will apply to all types of business in which merchandise is sold over the counter. Notable exceptions will be cafes, which come under a culinary workers' union, now in the process of formation, and butcher shops, which come under the meat cutters' union.

'WINDFALL' TAX HELD VALID

RICHMOND. (AP)—The fourth federal circuit court of appeals today upheld the constitutionality of the "windfall" taxes in affirming the decision of the district court at Salisbury, N. C., in the case of the White Packing company versus the collector of internal revenue.

The opinion in the case upheld the district court's dismissal of a suit brought to enjoin collection of the 80 per cent tax under title 3 of the revenue act of 1936.

Screen Workers Get Pay Increase

NEW YORK. (AP)—A new working agreement for the screen actors' guild may be acted upon soon, says Casey, chairman of a motion picture producers committee said today.

A 10 per cent pay increase was awarded about 20,000 California film workers as the climax of a conference between the producers committee and workers' representatives here yesterday, Casey said.

Those receiving wage increases will include carpenters, electrical workers, teamsters and chauffeurs, lamp operators, laboratory workers and such craftsmen as property men. The pay increases, Casey asserted, would total about $3,000,000 annually.

Only 21 Inches of Rain!

Is that all the rain we've had? Why that isn't a drop in the bucket compared to Assam where the precipitation is 428 inches a year. But it's a flood compared to Assam where no rain fell for 21 years! CHECK UP ON 'SECURITY' NUMBERS

Postoffice Reports Applicants Secure More Than One

If you have more than one account number in the social security setup, give it back to the government.

Local postal officials today said a number of Santa Anas have made more than one application for social security benefits, and that they have received more than one number and card.

In cases of this kind, all account number cards issued to an individual should be presented, preferably in person, to the local post office, which will ascertain which account number was issued in response to the first application made by the individual.

If this account number bears the name by which the applicant is known on his current employer's payroll, it should be returned to him for current or future use, and all account number cards should be surrendered to the post office for necessary corrections.

If the applicant has received cards from more than one post office, he should send them with a letter of information to the social security board at Baltimore, Md.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal—Editor's note.)

Rev. Rex B. Barr, Townsend district organizer of the 18th congressional district, was greeted by 350 Townsendites in the East Fourth street Townsend theater Sunday afternoon.

After the service, Barr presided over the afternoon meeting and led the group in community singing. Rev. Barr brought a stirring Townsend message which included a statement that there was strong probability that the present congress would debate the merits of the Townsend plan and perhaps enact it into law.

The editor of The Journal last night in his article "On the Way to Inflation" deprecated the fact that the government budget had not been balanced and suggested that the cause of the inflation being experienced and more than likely would follow was the borrowed capital being used by the national government. He suggested also that wages are not rising as fast as are commodities and that the result will be hardship on the average citizen.

The writer would call the editor's attention to the fact that the Townsend method of financing relief is a pay-as-you-go system, which, if instituted, would make balancing the budget an easy thing. It would also result in an increase in the wage element on the part of the workers and a consequent buying power on the part of the aged as would make a reasonable inflation of commodity prices easy to bear and also beneficial to the average citizen.

And let the editor take note that I said "reasonable inflation." There is such a thing as ruinous inflation. The writer believes with the editor that there is danger of an uncontrollable inflation unless the budget is balanced. The Townsend plan is the way to do it with benefit to everybody.

The writer apologizes to the Townsend clubs which met last evening and which meetings the writer could not feature in this column for lack of space. It was a choice between leaving out what he did write or else leave the club notices as was done. He thought the clubs would pardon him this time because of the importance of Dr. Townsend's visit and purpose in coming to Southern California at this time.

FAMOUS SLEUTH SCORES AGAIN

John Ortiz put another notch in the counter of the Famous Department store today.

Ortiz, burglar-catcher extraordinary, teamed up with Detective Lieut. Charles Wolford, Officer Floyd Rogers, and Secretary Edith Hay of the police department yesterday afternoon to catch two alleged shoplifters who had victimized four Santa Ana stores.

Set on the trail by Ortiz, who said he saw two women steal a dress from the Famous store and put it in a car, the officers arrested Mrs. Julia A. Higgins, alias Mrs. J. Williams, 39; and Mrs. Elva E. Richarme, alias Mrs. Ethel Burke, 45.

After telling officers they were waiting for their husband and later hiding their car keys behind the seat of a police automobile, the women finally admitted, Wolford said, taking merchandise from Montgomery Ward, Famous, J. C. Penney, and Kress stores, saying they had come here from Long Beach. They were lodged in the county jail on burglary charges.

The city council last night: Received a letter from State WPA Director William R. Lawson, outlining the status of the present WPA program, and advising the city that any projects now launched must be in condition at the end of the fiscal year so that the city could take care of them.

Referred to the finance committee departmental monthly reports from Plumbing Inspector H. O. Crowe showing total fees collected amounting to $286.25, from Electrical Inspector W. O. Packard showing fees amounting to $232.30, from Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen showing fees totaling $449.91 and from Judge J. G. Mitchell showing total fines collected for the past month $3613.05.

Granted permission to hang electric signs to J. A. Dunn, 1911 South Main street; Don L. Andrews, 112 East Fifth street; Hancock Oil company, 119 North Main street; Owl Drug company, 101 West Fourth street, and Gem Hosiery, 101½ West Fourth street.

Four attempted burglaries which netted the prowler a $1 watch were being investigated by Santa Ana police today.

J. S. Young, 2118 North Broadway, reported the burglar entered his home through a kitchen window some time Sunday night, rummaged through clothes in the bedroom, and finally escaped with the watch.

Attempts to enter homes were reported at the residences of Mrs. Constance Twist, 2121 North Broadway, Mrs. E. F. Museum, 2111 North Ross street, and Mrs. H. E. Shields, 901 Hickory street. Screens and doors had been tampered with in each case, but nothing was found to be missing.

A Long Beach schoolboy who decided to come to Santa Ana would be more fun than going to school, was back with his parents today. C. C. Taylor, 628 Garfield street, told police he picked the boy up on the highway. Long Beach police reported the boy had run away several times, and that his brother was in the detention home there for an unauthorized excursion to San Diego. The boy's name is withheld by The Journal because of his youth.

J. W. Donham, 1036 West Fifth street, told police he saw a prowler near his home last night. The man, he said, was short, poorly dressed, and was smoking a pipe. Officers Charles Neer and J. B. Swenson were called to 1733 Valencia street at 3:38 o'clock this morning by reports of neighbors that a dog was howling. They found the neighborhood quiet.

Stanley Hill, 28, bartender, of 316½ North Birch street, was in the county jail today charged with indecent exposure. He was arrested early this morning at Third and Main streets.

All persons interested in the Townsend movement are cordially invited to attend any of the club sessions, particularly those the clubs in their own neighborhoods. Members are also urged to turn out regularly.

Club No. 5 will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Richland Avenue Methodist church.

spent the week-end in Santa Ana at the new home of the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lepper, 928 Louise street.

CITY MAY JOIN SAFETY MOVE

When Santa Ana's new traffic safety commission meets next Monday it will have several definite problems to consider.

The city council last night referred several matters to the commission, the first officially sent to the recently appointed commission, of which Elmer Heidt is chairman.

On motion of Councilman Ernest H. Layton, the matter of Santa Ana's taking part in a state-wide inter-city traffic safety contest was referred to the local safety commission.

The council had received a letter from the Traffic Safety commission of California, department of motor vehicles at Sacramento, outlining plans for the contest and suggesting that Santa Ana take part. The contest is based on average accident records of each community for the past three years, points being awarded for the percentage of reductions in accidents.

A proposal from B. W. Stevens that a boulevard stop be re-established on Seventeenth street at Broadway, and that signal lights be established at Seventeenth and Main and First and Main also was referred to the traffic safety council.

Parking problems which came up at the council meeting last night also are expected to be considered at the traffic safety commission meeting.

While expressing a desire to cooperate with merchants' associations and chambers of commerce the letter said the Kress store cannot be classed with department stores and ready-to-wear shops. Nor are store hours important to labor as long as employees work but eight hours per day, said the letter. It said the convenience of longer hours is something the store owes the public.

"We have not and will not authorize the manager of our Santa Ana store to adopt the Saturday night closing hour proposed," said the letter.

Because the defendant is already sentenced to a long term in Folsom on similar charges, a bad check complaint in Santa Ana justice court against George F. McMath was dismissed today on motion of the district attorney's office.

EARLY CLOSING HIT BY KRESS

The movement for uniform store hours in Santa Ana today hit a snag in a letter from the S. H. Kress company, which said it also was voicing sentiments of business men here who oppose the new plan. The letter was signed by G. C. Ecker of the Kress organization at Los Angeles and was sent to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce. The move for uniform hours was launched by the chamber's retail division.

Ecker's letter called attention to the fact that this is an agricultural community and that open stores on Saturday nights are a great convenience to outside shoppers. It has been proposed to open stores here at 9 a. m. and close them at 5:30 p. m., except on Saturdays, when closing time would be 6 p. m. This schedule would except drug stores and food stores.

While expressing a desire to cooperate with merchants' associations and chambers of commerce the letter said the Kress store cannot be classed with department stores and ready-to-wear shops. TRITON SAVES YOU MONEY 4 ways

- No. 1. SAVES CARBON SCRAPES
At left—cylinder head of a car drive 6,000 miles with other oil. Note heavy carbon which caused the car to knock or "ping" badly. At right—the same cylinder head 3,000 miles after the motor was switched to Triton. Most of the old carbon has burned away. The knock has stopped. Here's photographic proof that Triton cleans out carbon as you drive!
- No. 2. SAVES GASOLINE
A large percentage of cars have the spark retarded to suppress carbon "ping." Triton allows correct advance, retarding of the spark without "pinging." Result: you get the full power and efficiency your motor was designed to give. A more efficient motor means extra mileage from every tankful of gasoline.
- No. 3. SAVES OIL DRAINS
Triton saves oil because it has extreme resistance to "breaking down" or oxidizing. It is a safe, full-bodied oil long after many oils are worn out. If you should neglect to drain the crankcase at your customary time, don't worry about Triton. It protects your motor during the last few hundred miles you drive just as it does during the first few hundred.

JIM COATES 'JUMPS' STARS FOR VISALIA NINE

Column Left

By PAUL WRIGHT

The Stars come out again tonight, and you old-timers who like to know each player's full name and his middle initial should begin hanging around the Municipal bowl dugout.

Ray Smith, the good doctor, is living up to his promise as Manager George Lackaye's successor—to inject new blood into the Santa Ana lineup.

A sad blow indeed was the departure of Jim Coates to Visalia, but the ever-optimistic Smith believes he'll be able to field a formidable entry despite the loss of his sterling pitcher.

When the National Nightball league grind begins early next month, you may not recognize the Stars' outfield, and their infield probably will be changed at two or more positions.

Herb Bowe and George Conaway from the City league are shaping up well as flycatchers, and "they'll be in the starting lineup if they hit the way I believe they will in exhibition games," predicts Smith.

Southpaw Bob Mott is showing so much promise at first base that he may oust the heavyset veteran, Nan Coots. Coots hits too well to warm the bench, however, and may find a regular job behind the plate unless Bomo Koral's stickwork improves.

We look for George Presbie to be back at second, with Manager Smith shifting to rightfield.

Tommy Young and Charley Comstock loom as permanent fixtures at third and shortstop, but you never can tell.

Paul Jacques, best of Santa Ana's family of "Jumping Jacques," may furnish the points that will give the University of California trackmen their first dual meet victory over U. S. C. since 1924.

Bears and Trojans clash in the Coliseum Saturday.

Jacques has approached 24 seconds flat in the 220-yard low hurdles, and in the opinion of his coach, Brutus Hamilton, is capable of scaling 6 ft. 5 in. in the high jump.

With Leland La Fond ailing with an injured leg, Earl Vickery will be the main threat against California's Gregory Stout and Jacques.

Delos Thurber of the Trojans will be favored over the Santa Ana boy and the rest of the Bears in the high jump.

The two universities began their dual meet competition in 1908, and in 26 meetings the Berkeley team has the edge with 14 victories.

U. S. C., after winning only one meet out of the first 15, started a win streak in '24 that reached 11 with last year's win. Closest score was in 1934 when the Trojans had to win the relay, the final event, to score a 69-62 victory.

INDIAN FACES ARMSTRONG

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Henry Armstrong, the black emperor of featherweights, risks his reign tonight in a 10-round bout with Pete DeGrasse, Mohawk Indian.

Back from a triumphal invasion of New York rings, the little negro is meeting a willing puncher who can take it. As a recent winner over Mike Bellosio and Aldo Spolito, Armstrong was the decided favorite.

In a second 10-rounder at the Olympic auditorium, Everett Rightmire, Sioux City, Iowa, opposes the rugged New York featherweight, Petey Hayes. The Iowa outpointed Hayes several months ago.

TRAINING CAMP DOPE

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Hal Schumacher, New York Giant pitcher, really believes in taking a strenuous turn in the outfield. Prince Hal chased a fly ball right into the fence yesterday and bruised his leg badly.

SARASOTA. (AP)—Joe Stripp, third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is the latest addition to the club's training camp list. An injured right shoulder has developed into a serious backache.

DALLAS. (AP)—The New York Yankees claim the backgrounds for hitting in their recent games are the reason they are hitting so well. They have been giving Texas fans the slugging show of the year with 35 hits and 27 runs in two games.

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—One step farther along the homeward path, Cincinnati's Reds came here today for a clash with the Rochester Redwings, of which the Reds' general manager, Warren C. Giles, formerly was president.

WINTER HAVEN. (AP)—Manager Jimmy Wilson selected Wayne Lamaster, rookie southpaw, as the Phillies' starting pitcher for the 1937 National league season opener against

RECORD YEAR AHEAD FOR ROOKIES

Thirty or More Will Be Retained By American League After May 15

CHICAGO. (AP)—It looks like a boom year for American league rookies.

With the opening of the season two weeks away, 30 or more new men may be carried on the eight rosters up to May 15, with a chance that at least 30 will remain after the date on which each major league club is limited to 23 players.

Doerr Will Stick

The Detroit Tigers may bob up with a flock of new faces. George Tebbetts has appealed to Manager Mickey Cochrane as a catcher, and Rudy York, the slugger from Milwaukee, may get the third base assignment over Marvin Owen. Chet Laabs may win his fight for an outfield job, and Pitchers Bob Logan and Dizzy Trout may stick.

The Boston Red Sox survivors probably will be Catcher Gene Deaule, a newcomer; Pitcher Archie McKain and Second Baseman Bobby Doerr, who looms as a coming star. Among the Chicago White Sox novices may be Henry Steinbrenner, Steve Mesner and Pitcher John Rigney, who has been hurling brilliantly.

Bob Feller, the sensational kid hurler on whom Cleveland Indians fans count so much, heads the list of Tribe newcomers. Geoffrey Heath, a new outfielder, is expected to stick.

Connie Mack may present several new men on his Philadelphia Athletics, among them Earle Brucker, catcher, and possibly George Caster and Luther Thomas, pitchers.

No Yankee Rookies

Pitcher Louis Kippel, late of Los Angeles, and Second Baseman Gerard Lipscomb may stick with the St. Louis Browns, while Harry Davis, formerly of Detroit, is expected to be another newcomer to Brownie ranks.

Washington will not place many new men in the outfield. Freddie Sington and Taft Wright probably will survive, as will Pitcher Johnny Salveson.

There isn't any rookie problem with the New York champions. Most of the youngsters given a trip to the Yankee camp didn't even bother to unpack their bags.

Waner of Pirates May End Holdout At Dallas Sunday

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—Paul Waner, Pirate outfielder, may be ready to end his holdout, but President William Benswanger has not heard about it.

The National League's No. 1 batter announced at Sarasota, Fla., he would confer with Benswanger at Dallas, Tex., where the Pirates play Sunday.

Benswanger asserted he had received no word from Waner within five weeks; had not asked Waner to meet him; and had no plans for a conference.

The pirates opened their exhibition tour today at Prescott.

Hugh R. McMullen, former catcher for the New York Giants, was named to manage the Pittsburgh Pirates' farm at Paducah, Ky.

DAYTONA BEACH. (AP)—Lon Warneke was slated to go the full nine innings route against the Boston Bees today. Cardinal Manager Frank Frisch said Dizzy Dean will get a full game work-out against Cincinnati Wednesday and Brother Paul will take his turn Thursday in the Brooklyn Dodger game.

SARASOTA. (AP)—Bob (Lefty) Grove, who has had but three innings of competition during the recent citrus campaign, will face the Brooklyn Dodgers today in the Boston Red Sox training camp finale.

DAYTONA BEACH. (AP)—The Boston Bees are scheduled to attempt the difficult task of stinging the St. Louis Cardinals. The Bees haven't scored a run in the last three days and 25 innings.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Tommy Bridges, the Detroit Tigers' leading pitcher over a three-year span, was named for his first start in more than two weeks today after apparent recovery from a muscle strain. He'll pitch against the Washington Senators.

They tore half the pants off the Red Phantom's masked second in their efforts to unmask him. The midnight time limit ended the bout between the Phantom, 235-pounder from Portland, Ore., and Lopez, 220, Los Angeles.

Braddock Sets Up Training Camp in Wisconsin Woods

STONE LAKE, Wis. (AP)—James J. Braddock, world's heavyweight champion, took up the life of a backwoodsman today.

The titleholder started the slow process of conditioning in the rugged outdoors of a $50,000 private estate on little Sissabagama lake, in the wilds of the northern Wisconsin woods.

Braddock's camp is six miles from the closest highway and 24 miles from the nearest movie, so all he can do is to devote his time to conditioning himself for his championship ring engagement with Joe Louis, in Chicago, June 23.

Braddock plans to immediately plunge into his five weeks of roughing it, chopping down trees, hiking over the wooded trails and otherwise living an outdoor life. At the end of five weeks he will establish a training camp close to Chicago to sharpen his boxing.

DONS HUMBLE BREA; PLAY SAINT NINE

Fresh from an 8-1 victory at Brea, Blanchard Beatty's Santa Ana Junior collegians will tangle with Joe Koegler's Santa Ana Saints in baseball at Poly field tomorrow afternoon.

Arnold Fickie, transfer from Fullerton, wrenched his arm in the first inning, and Beatty was forced to use Outfielder Art Nielsen on the mound. The Dons collected six hits to Brea's five.

The junior college is preparing for its Eastern conference opener against Pomona's defending champion at Pomona Saturday afternoon while tomorrow's game will be the last warmup for the Saints, who invade Long Beach Poly Friday afternoon for their second Coast league start. Koegler's preps lost their opener to San Diego's Hillers, 7-2.

San Diego and Oxy Near Track Title

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—For the third successive year a meeting between Occidental and San Diego colleges will decide the Southern California conference track title. Teams from the schools will clash here Saturday night and while from San Diego won the title here. Last year Occidental was victor by two points. Saturday's meet is considered a toss up.

Montanez Decisions Ambers, Earns July Shot at Title

By SCOTTY RESTON

NEW YORK. (AP)—Pedro Montanez, of Puerto Rico, was the unofficial lightweight champion of the world today.

He earned this title, such as it is, by beating Champion Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., in a 10-round non-title fight at Madison Square Garden last night and while from the start it was assured Ambers would save his crown it looked for a while as if he wouldn't have a head to put on.

Though he won the last four rounds and had Montanez hanging on at the final bell, Herkimer, hurricane was just a breeze for Montanez in the first six rounds.

Montanez dropped the champion with a hard right cross in the first round and kept pounding effectively at long range until Ambers discovered he could get somewhere by fighting at close quarters. But by the time the champion discovered it Montanez' lead was too great.

By his showing last night Montanez saved up a shot at the title and probably a share of one of the biggest gates of the coming outdoor season. Forgetting Montanez' early margin and howling for Ambers at the end the crowd of 17,352 remained to boo the unanimous decision.

Ambers must first give Tony Canzoneri a shot, at the title in Garden May 7. The winner of this will likely be matched with Montanez in July.

The golden kid has been fighting for three years in this country to get a title shot. For the past year

Ringsiders Attack Red Phantom in Draw With Lopez

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Vincent Lopez and the Red Phantom wrestled (that's what they call it) for an hour and 19 minutes in the general vicinity of the ring at Memorial auditorium last night but the only victors were the ringsiders.

They tore half the pants off the Red Phantom's masked second in their efforts to unmask him. The midnight time limit ended the bout between the Phantom, 235-pounder from Portland, Ore., and Lopez, 220, Los Angeles.

YOURIST AND STRONGBERG IN DRAW

Roebuck Applies Boston Crab to Pin Grimes; Cox, Stetcher Win

There were some racial differences to be settled last night. But after a full hour of spirited and tricky grappling the old Nazi versus Nazarene conflict remained as before.

Rudy Strongberg, German Adonis, and Abe Yourist, pride of the Bronx, indulged in one of the lushest battles ever seen at the Highway 101 arena. Both were full of tricks. Abe in particular displayed more grips than the plumber has tools to leave at home.

The battle ended in a draw, but only after a full evening.

Abe took the first heat with what looked like an arm split to press row, but looked like a full Nelson, leg scissors and surf board to Abe. Or so he told Referee Ray Varga. Time was 31:17, and the denouement came after Abe had escaped a vigorous Indian death grip, in which he writhed for five full minutes.

Strongberg captured the second fall with a reverse head scissors and a backward flip, in 16:47, and with those two things out of the way the boys really went to work for the remaining 10 minutes.

They threw fire to the winds and started slugging, kicking, butting and flipping each other about with abandon. The result was foregone. Each was too tired to damage the other.

Yourist proved a popular substitute for King Kong Kox, the "Lodi maniac" who last yesterday was barred by the California state athletic commission.

Tiny Roebuck, sporting a mid-summer tan, put the Indian sign on Les (Kangaroo) Grimes, the tiny mile from down under, in the semi-windup.

Roebuck took fall No. 1 in 29 minutes with a Boston crab hold which completely incapacitated the Australian. Grimes staggered out for the second heat, but Roebuck refused to manhandle him further, as the Anzac plainly was out on his feet. Varga stopped it before it could be called a fall.

Karl Shultz of Milwaukee did a rough and tough job on Myron Cox, the life guard. In fact his work was a mile too rough and tough. Cox won the battle when Varga threw the Dutchman out for unbefitting conduct.

In the opener Young Stetcher evened up last weeks score with Iron Mike Works, dumping him in 15 minutes with an airplane spin. Works was not nearly as nasty as usual.

The Di Maggio Procession

Vince Started It When He Talked Joe Into Baseball

JOE: '36 rookie star . . .

By SAN JACKSON

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Three ball players answer to the name of Di Maggio this season.

Fans who think of "Di Mag" as the sensational Yankee outfielder named Joe will have to remember that Big Brother Vince is also in the majors—a rookie with the Boston Bees.

Out here on the coast, bespectacled Dominic is getting his first crack at the professional game with the San Francisco Seals.

Vince is 24, Joe 22, Dominic 19. There's another Di Maggio boy, Tom, now following his father's pursuit of crab fishing, who might have been the greatest ball player of all the Di Maggios.

Vince Persuades O'Doul

"Tom was a swell player in his semi-pro days," says Dominic. "He got a tryout with the Seals about 1928. I have a feeling he'd be the best of us all if he hadn't got a cold that crippled his arm."

Now around 30, Tom has given up baseball.

Vincent launched the family into ball playing as a profession. It was he who induced Lefty O'Doul of the Seals to give Joe a tryout. Joe made good in a big way, but Vince was released soon afterward and finished the 1933 season with the Hollywood club.

Originally a third baseman, Vince was spotted by the Seals playing semi-pro ball in San Francisco and sent to their farm—the Tucson club of the Arizona league.

The league folded in the middle of the 1931 season, and Vince and three other players—their salary a month in arrears—got a welcome call back to San Francisco.

Ups and downs followed until last season. In the outfield for the San Diego club, Vince batted .293 in 176 games. The bid to the Bees' training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., followed. Boston played Vince at third in pre-season games, but he'll probably stay in the outfield.

California Women Trail in Golf At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS. (AP)—One hundred women golfers trailed Mrs. R. D. Roper and her score of 75 into the second round of the 36-hole annual Palm Springs invitational tournament today.

The Phoenix shot-maker, a finalist in last year's trans-Mississippi tourney, edged out Mrs. A. S. Means of Salt Lake City by a single stroke at the end of the first 18 holes.

Mrs. Fred Currie of Bel-Air, Los Angeles, was third with a 77. Belying her 78-years, Mrs. Julia Mackie of the Wilshire club scored a sound 91.

Mrs. Harry Bakre of Huntington Beach and Miss Lolita Mead of Santa Ana are representing the Santa Ana Country club. Last year Miss Mead brought home a silver cup for earning third low net.

turned out a number of stellar Italian athletes. Keen on ball-playing, he worked spasmodically in factories while he batted 'em out for various teams in the North Beach district. He got his chance last season with the Presidio of Monterey team in the Mission semi-pro league, which has the reputation of playing pretty good ball.

Dominic used to be a shortstop, now plays outfield.

Dominic related for the first time how brother Joe made good in a big way in his first opportunity to get on a real ball club. Vince's arguments got him into a ball game for the Seals the very last day of the 1932 season. Joe lined out a single and a triple. His berth at next spring's training camp was assured.

The ball-playing Di Maggios have four sisters, all married.

WILMER ALLISON TO RETIRE

Davis Cupper Turns to Golf

HOUSTON. (AP)—Wilmer Allison, Davis Cup player so many times he has to use his pencil before giving the exact number, said today he had definitely retired from big-time tennis.

"I'm too old (he's 32), and I've taken up golf," said the former national champion in singles, doubles, mixed and intercollegiate competition. "Besides, I thought it was about time for me to give the United States team a chance to bring the Davis Cup back across the water."

Asked what he thought about the United States' chances of winning Davis Cup honors this year, Allison said:

"You know this golf is a great game. It's tough, though. I mean it takes a long time to master. But I like it. Played 27 holes today."

Allison was paired today in a third-round match with Bobbie Decker of Miami, Fla., in the River Oaks event. He was defeated the last two years in the finals by Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, third-ranking star in the nation and top-seeded in the tournament.

"If you want to see my final match in this year's tournament you'd better come out today," Allison said. "Next Sunday, when they are playing the finals, I'll be shooting golf."

BEAVERS, SEALS TUSTIN HONORS CAGE CHAMPS

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—From their cellar berths, the Mission Reds and San Diego Padres will try to prove at the expense of each other that they deserve the pre-season standard rating given them in Pacific Coast league baseball.

Colorful ceremonies were arranged for their opening day, the Padres' 1937 hometown debut. Club officials predicted 10,000 would see the game. San Diego is the youngest and one of the best baseball towns in the circuit.

Hefty Jim Chaplin, late of the Boston Bees, was named to pitch for the Padres, with Frank Lamanski, veteran southpaw, on the mound for the Missions.

If rain doesn't interfere, the San Francisco Seals and Portland Beavers, last year's champions, will open in San Francisco tonight. Oakland entertains Seattle while Los Angeles plays at Sacramento in day games. There were no games yesterday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK. (AP)—Yale is counted on a hook named Al Wilson from Charlies, W. Va., as a running mate for all-America Clint Frank this fall. . . . Coach Ducky Pond says Wilson is going to be another Red Cagle.

WILMER ALLISON TO RETIRE

Davis Cupper Turns to Golf

HOUSTON. (AP)—Wilmer Allison, Davis Cup player so many times he has to use his pencil before giving the exact number, said today he had definitely retired from big-time tennis.

"I'm too old (he's 32), and I've taken up golf," said the former national champion in singles, doubles, mixed and intercollegiate competition. "Besides, I thought it was about time for me to give the United States team a chance to bring the Davis Cup back across the water."

Asked what he thought about the United States' chances of winning Davis Cup honors this year, Allison said:

"You know this golf is a great game. It's tough, though. I mean it takes a long time to master. But I like it. Played 27 holes today."

Allison was paired today in a third-round match with Bobbie Decker of Miami, Fla., in the River Oaks event. He was defeated the last two years in the finals by Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, third-ranking star in the nation and top-seeded in the tournament.

"If you want to see my final match in this year's tournament you'd better come out today," Allison said. "Next Sunday, when they are playing the finals, I'll be shooting golf."

BEAVERS, SEALS TUSTIN HONORS CAGE CHAMPS

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—From their cellar berths, the Mission Reds and San Diego Padres will try to prove at the expense of each other that they deserve the pre-season standard rating given them in Pacific Coast league baseball.

Colorful ceremonies were arranged for their opening day, the Padres' 1937 hometown debut. Club officials predicted 10,000 would see the game. San Diego is the youngest and one of the best baseball towns in the circuit.

Hefty Jim Chaplin, late of the Boston Bees, was named to pitch for the Padres, with Frank Lamanski, veteran southpaw, on the mound for the Missions.

If rain doesn't interfere, the San Francisco Seals and Portland Beavers, last year's champions, will open in San Francisco tonight. Oakland entertains Seattle while Los Angeles plays at Sacramento in day games. There were no games yesterday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—Yale is counted on a hook named Al Wilson from Charlies, W. Va., as a running mate for all-America Clint Frank this fall. . . . Coach Ducky Pond says Wilson is going to be another Red Cagle.

Only reason you didn't hear more of him last season was because the turf in the Yale bowl wasn't suited to his peculiar close-to-the-ground style of running. . . . This will be attended to pronto.

Under the pretext that the bowl needs a general going over, the Elis will plow it up this summer and lay down a brand of sod that will be right down Wilson's alley. . . . Then they expect to sit back, turn the kid loose and watch him gallop with that piskin. . . . This announcement isn't authorized by New Haven, but it's the real McCoy.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By E. N. (BRICK) GAINES

Once in a while, a real, honest-to-goodness worthwhile idea is born in the press.

Lots of times lately we've read of someone's idea of how world problems should be solved, of economic aspects of the sudden jump in price of the Siberian sardine and its probable detrimental effect upon the consuming American public and what should be done about it, and like subjects.

But Editor Vermer Beck at San Juan Capistrano last week popped out with a stunner. An idea which, if carried out, would bring fame not only to his own community but to all of Orange county. An idea that's been tried and found successful in Los Angeles, and which couldn't help but be a success here.

Personally I've always had a strong feeling for Capistrano. Residents there are real folks. They think quite a bit of their sleepy little town, and I don't blame 'em. So do I. And here's their chance to do a bit of the right sort of developing—a growth in the right direction, rebuilding their town along the lines of the romantic early days. Take a peek at Editor Beck's idea:

What is San Juan Capistrano's future? Will its Mission continue to be the sole attraction for tourists to this beautiful valley? Could San Juan Capistrano one day be a goal for tourists from all parts of the United States? Could it be an all-year attraction, unique and thriving?

For those who believe dreams come true, San Juan Capistrano can.

From Isaac J. Frazee, Laguna Beach, comes a suggestion which has been timely playing about in the minds of a few residents of this Mission valley.

Taking inspiration from Oliveras street in Los Angeles, created through the ingenuity of Miss Sterling, and "Padua Hills" little theater near Claremont, built up to national prominence through the hard work of Mrs. Beth Garner, San Juan Capistrano could easily have both these colorful features, only they would be much wider in scope.

Oliveras street is but one block in length in the busiest part of Los Angeles. In it is found the very heart of Old Mexico, quiet, colorful and picturesque. At Padua Hills Mrs. Garner presents true Mexican plays with true Mexican players. The tradition of Old Mexico is perpetuated at Padua Hills and visitors and tourists among the little theater to enjoy the music, dances and legends.

What has that to do with San Juan Capistrano? Just this—Many of Southern California's most historic adobes, landmarks and families are here. The portion of El Camarito Real extending from the rear of the Mission to Las Rosas offers every qualification for a street that could completely overshadow Oliveras street in Los Angeles. There are the original adobes, still standing, but in need of repair.

Individuals, the Orange County Historical society, the California Historical society, and the Native Daughters, and other organizations could be made interested in this street. After restoring the adobes, other Mexican structures could be erected, the street to be lined with booths, craft shops and curio shops, where Mexican artisans could make and sell their wares. Then build one or two places serving only Mexican foods.

No more picturesque surroundings could be found in California than on this little street, starting at the Mission and extending to Las Rosas in its sylvan setting. Nearby are the canyons, most notably Hot Springs canyon with its oaks and other attractions for artists. And nearby, the sea.

Somewhere in this colorful street could be the little theater in which would be presented the Mexican folk, just as it is at Padua Hills. The street would be the center for many fiestas days and holidays observed in Mexico. The public could take part, and San Juan Capistrano would in a short time become the tourist center of Southern California.

As Mr. Frazee wrote—"all these opportunities are now knocking at Capistrano's door. Will she rise and bid them enter with that gracious old true Spanish greeting 'Es Su Casa Senor,' or simply sigh, 'Manana'."

FIGHT OVER EXPIRING OIL LEASES PREDICTED IN H. B.

DEEPER ZONE PRODUCTION TEST SEEN

Brown Well Flows 12,000 Barrels in 30 Days; Lease Extended

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Prospects of an amazing oil lease "battle" here were being discussed by oil men today, following the first monthly report on the Texas Oil company's new well on the Brown lease, which produced more than 12,000 barrels during the past 30 days.

Oil experts point out that 20-year leases on much of the surrounding land will expire in periods ranging up to 1941. When this occurs, land is thrown open to further development by other companies, although the original drillers still retain their producing wells.

See Deep Test
Observers predict drilling of at least one deep test in the area of the Brown lease within the next year, as major companies now holding the land are expected to explore all possibilities before either abandoning or re-leasing the properties. An attempt for production at the 9000-foot level is anticipated.

Attention has drawn to lease exploration by Texas company officials who are reported to have obtained a 10-year extension on the Brown lease, where their latest big producer is located. In obtaining the extension, the company said to have agreed to drill four additional wells. The second now is at a reported depth of 3700 feet and is 400 feet east of the 400-barrel producer.

Receive $2000
Landowners under the Brown lease are reported to have received more than $2000 in royalties during the past month. Previously, only two or three small wells had been producing.

The five-acre C. C. Wilson lease, a block north and west of the Brown property, is another tract producing from the 4000-foot Dunlap sands. Two wells have been put on production by the lessee, the Petroleum company, and each is expected to top the 400-barrel Brown well for production.

BEACH COUNCIL L. B. BUILDING MEETING SET
LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna city councilmen will continue their duties tomorrow with their fourth successive meeting due to the press of business.

Ordinances will take up the bulk of the deliberation with the third readings scheduled for the trailer ordinance and the police patrol ordinance. Being a public meeting with final reading of the laws, it is expected that discussion from the floor will be heard. Due for consideration will be the police patrol ordinance which was drawn up last week to settle the controversy regarding Captain Don Wilkies permission to enter the business. It is expected that the new measure will curb Wilkies' proposed activities by its strict regulations.

The bathing suit ordinance still hangs fire, but it is doubtful that the lawmakers will get around to the subject tomorrow. Speeding the process for repair of the outfall sewer line bids will be advertised for by the council with the project estimated to cost about $5000.

FUGITIVE BRIDE

By RUTH LOUISE AYRES
Three days before Martha Halliday, daughter of a wealthy banker, is to marry Nick Garnett, playboy scion of a fine old family, she overhears gossip that he is marrying her for her money.

Also, she knows that he has been trailing a dancer, Nita Lombard, on her tour about the country. Martha suddenly decided to run away from her wedding and sets out in her roadster for her aunt's home in the next state.

She is stranded in a storm, loses her purse, and is forced to take a job as waitress in the hotel night club at Oakville, popular resort. She is dismayed when she discovers that Nita is dancing there that night, and that Nick, too, is there. Meanwhile, Barry Dean, a reporter and a friend of Martha's, has got wind of her disappearance, and suspects the reason behind it.

CHAPTER XIV
Barry Dean was certain now that Martha Halliday had run away from her scheduled wedding to Nick Garnett. He was sure his hunch was correct as he considered the facts. First, there was Martha's absence from home today and this evening, and her failure to keep any of her appointments. Then, on top of that, was her father's agitated attempt to put through a long-distance call, "of the gravest importance," to Miss Genevieve Lee of Point Heron.

Barry knew that Miss Genevieve Lee was Martha's aunt—Martha had often spoken to him of her Aunt Genevieve, to whom she was apparently devoted. What more natural, if she had run away, than that she had fled to the home of her aunt? That would explain her father's anxiety to get in touch with Miss Lee.

Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell, Henry Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Suss and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Taves.

BOWEN ELECTED ROTARY HEAD

LAGUNA BEACH.—Rising out of a fracas on the beach several months ago over a dog fight, Mrs. Carolyn A. Simmons of Beverly Hills received a $106 judgment from Carlos de Navarro of Laguna in Judge C. C. Cravath's court yesterday.

Actual damages awarded were $40 with $60 allowed as punitive damages and $6 court costs.

According to Mrs. Simmons' complaint in testimony last Saturday, she was struck a number of times by Navarro while they were attempting to separate their fighting dogs on the beach. She claimed she was knocked to the ground, suffering a sprained ankle and bruises.

be increased by additional tree and garden planting."

gave her the once-over. She had on a shabby old jersey dress and a polo coat that looked like the moth had been slumbering in it. Get up, I mean."

"What bet?" said Barry. "And what was the girl herself like?"

"She was the type you wouldn't look at twice, but I remembered afterwards there had been a funny look in her eyes. Kind of a nervous, desperate look."

"Yes?" Barry prodded.

"Yes—but the thing that made me sit up and take notice was that this shabby-looking girl walked out of here and stepped into the classiest looking roadster you've ever seen—black and silver, and a block long!"

Barry was suddenly alert.

"Now, I ask you," said the waitress, "wouldn't you have been suspicious of a girl who looked like that having a car that must have cost $6000 if it cost a penny?"

"My, yes!"

"Well, Johnny—he's the boy who tends the pumps out there—he was just quick enough to get the license number of the car. I wrote it down. And then, about an hour later, what do I hear but that a state trooper has been shot to death right at the edge of the highway. Wouldn't you be suspicious?"

"I should say I would. It grows more like a movie every minute."

"The way I figure it," the waitress continued, "is that this girl was mixed up with some gang, and had stolen the car. Then, when the trooper stopped her, she got scared and let him have it."

"So did you give the license number to state troopers so that they could check on who owned the car?" asked Barry.

"I sure did. And the girl must have stolen it—no doubt of that—because do you know who really owns it?"

Barry shook his head.

"Martha Halliday! Heiress to millions! Believe me, that girl who was driving it was no heiress! No, sir—she had stolen it, and you can bet your bottom dollar that she's the person who killed Jimmy Flynn!"

REZONING ON 6TH STREET OPPOSED

Planning Commission Has Busy Session Monday Night

Santa Ana's planning commission had a busy time last night. At a joint hearing of the commission and city council, property owners, headed by C. Robinson, protested the rezoning of property at 616 East Sixth street, where the Arrow Laundry and Linen Supply plans to put an addition to its plant.

Protests were overridden by the council and commission, when permission for rezoning for special use of the property was granted.

Church Request Granted Robinson had objected to the smells and noise of the laundry, Ralph Hillman, owner, said that the laundry is taking care of every phase of the situation which might be called a nuisance. The laundry was located on its present property two years before the city zoning law went into effect.

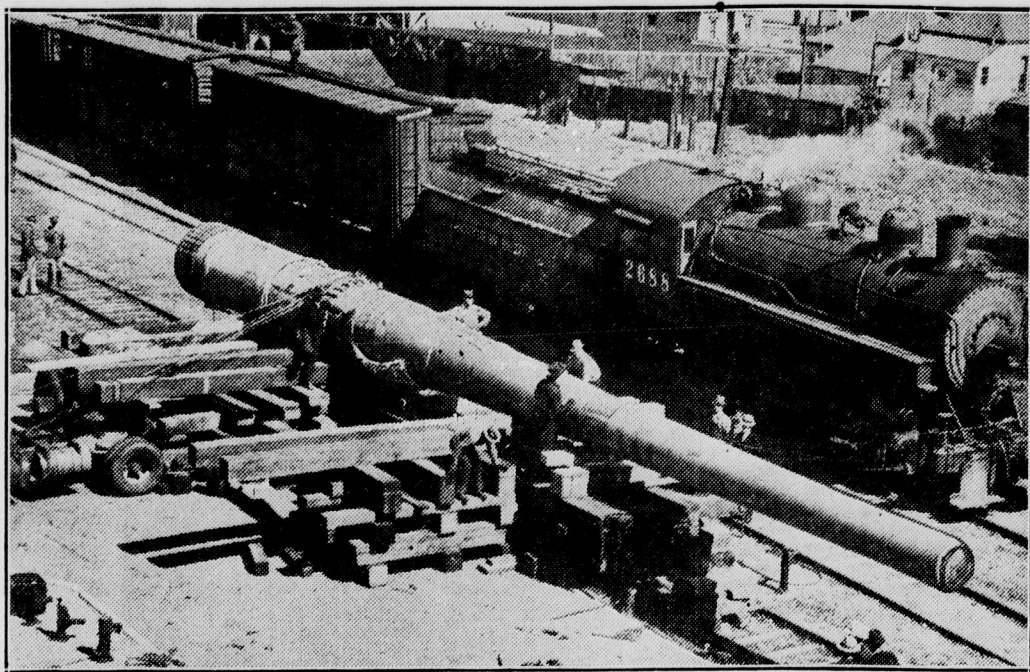

A request of Charles Hoff and J. B. Smith for permission to erect a building for the South Santa Ana Church of Christ in the 1900 block on Cypress street, which entailed rezoning the property for special use, was granted by the council on recommendation of the planning commission. A public hearing was held on the proposal, and no protests were made.

The council set April 19 as date for a public hearing on the application of Dr. John McAulay to establish an office building in the rear of his property at 1318 North Sycamore street. The property was ordered posted for special use.

Hearing Date Set April 19 also was the date set for a hearing on the application of LeRoy Bruns for rezoning the southwest corner of First and Ross streets to permit the establishment of a wholesale electrical business place.

The council set April 19 as time for a hearing on application of James S. Jones to zone for special use property on the east side of Olive between Tenth and Washington to permit building of a duplex dwelling. The property now is zoned for single residences. A special committee was named by the planning commission to investigate the application of J. A. Melbrock for construction of a drive-in market at the northwest corner of First and Shelton streets. The committee will report back at the next meeting.

To Enlarge Driveway Another special committee was appointed by the planning body to check the application of Homer F. Larkin to secure a special use permit for operating a house trailer business on the west side of Main between Russell and Wilshire streets.

Permission was granted Shipley and Pearson, Inc., to enlarge a 12-foot driveway on West Tenth near Broadway to a 30-foot driveway for a service station located on the property.

The council gave final reading to an ordinance rezoning the southeast corner of First and Van Ness streets from single family residences to apartment house to permit Mrs. Margaret Carl to construct an apartment house on the property.

The University of Oklahoma has 5291 students this semester, the largest second-semester enrollment in the school's history.

Band Leader Asks $10,000 For Musical Project

A $10,000 schedule for the Santa Ana Municipal band, designed to advertise the city and further its musical development was under consideration by the city council today. The project was proposed to the city council last night by Leland Auer, band director.

Outstanding in Auer's schedule was a suggestion that the band be authorized to play on the business streets of the city every Saturday between 7 and 9 p. m. to attract the public to the city and stimulate shopping. Auer suggested a movable stage or truck for this purpose. The cost of this weekly concert would be $100, he said.

Summer Concerts He explained that short, lively selections would be played and that the band would stop for a short program in every block.

A series of 10 summer concerts in Birch park was proposed for Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9 p. m., between July 1 and September 2. This program would cost $2000 for the season, he said. He called attention to the fact that band members have made careful plans and preparations for the summer concerts and requested that funds be made available.

The complete budget proposed for the band follows: rehearsal hall rental per year, $52; Saturday night concerts, 52 weeks, $5,200; summer concerts in Birch park, $2000; music library fund, $200; Anaheim Halloween celebration, $135; Armistice day parade, $255; Tournament of Lights entry, $200 and Christmas decorations, $2000.

Music Fund Banned Auer explained that the latter item was included merely to show funds actually expended by the city from its advertising fund last year.

Discussion of the proposal brought out the fact that several years ago the voters decided to do away with the city's music fund. Since that time the band has not been financed by the city as a regular project.

A committee was appointed to study the suggestion. This group is composed of Mayor Fred Rowland, Councilmen William Penn and Ernest Layton.

DOCTORS OPEN NEW OFFICE

Association of Dr. W. L. Jollette and Dr. C. J. Ruley, chiropractors, in the C. & R. Health institute, 405 North Broadway, was announced today.

Dr. Ruley has operated the institute here for eight years, and Dr. Jollette has been in practice in his own offices here for the past five years.

They will entertain friends tonight at the institute offices, which have been enlarged and improved, at an informal reception.

Dr. Ruley is an active member of the Toastmasters club, and a member of the forum. He has been a practicing chiropractor for 25 years.

Dr. Jollette was chosen director of the Los Angeles children's clinic when it was formed six months ago, and has been praised by President Roosevelt for the accomplishments of the clinic. He will continue as a director and will devote part of his time to the work.

He is a graduate of the University of Wyoming and the Colorado Chiropractic university, and graduated from a one-year post graduate course at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic with valedictory honors, winning the philosopher's degree. He was a member of the faculty of the Los Angeles college during the past year.

Don Students to Name Secretary

Due to the withdrawal of the Associated Student secretary at Santa Ana Junior college, petitions are now being taken out for the election to fill the vacancy.

Lou Ella Pierce, freshman, withdrew from the college, leaving her post vacant. The only petition taken out today is that of Marian Baxter.

The special election was called by Neil McDaniel, Association Student president. Petitions must be in by Friday, with election to be held next week, McDaniel said.

ALASKA LURES NEWLYWEDS CITY WILL BUY WATER PIPE

Romance and adventure were "at the helm" today as a pair of newlyweds on motorcycles roared out of Santa Ana, headed for Nome, Alaska.

Mrs. Pat Hatch, 23, soloed on her motor clear from Plymouth, Mass., to marry Ben W. Hatch, 24, and start life with him on the open road.

They carry their kitchen in "saddle bags," their bedroom in a roll of canvas, their dining room will be wherever they get hungry and their living room will be the broad highway and all they can see on the horizon.

Their motorcycles are brand new —just slightly newer than their marriage, which was performed at Riverside last Oct. 21. Hatch had been working there in the cement plant when he sent for his bride-to-be, whom he had met about a year before when he was living in Plymouth.

They made Santa Ana the first stop on their journey, to visit friends, including Robert Lav, educational advisor at the El Toro CCC camp.

When they make camp they'll stretch a tarpaulin from one bike to the other and let the rain run off.

Maybe, when they get to Alaska, they'll take up a homestead.

Fernand Gravet Hit in Comedy At Broadway

Fernand Gravet, hailed as the greatest new screen star in recent years, makes an auspicious debut before American audiences in the hilarious comedy, "The King and the Chorus Girl," now showing at the Broadway theater. As a de-throned king with nothing in life to the philosopher's degree. He was a member of the faculty of the Los Angeles college during the past year.

Laid in Paris with the Folies Bergere supplying the musical background, the story concerns the lack of interest in life of the young royalist until he meets Miss Blondell, an American chorus girl. Here the picture picks up its fast-paced action when he is spurned by the girl he expected would swoon at the very mention of his traditional royal name.

Luis Alberni and Alan Mowbray aid in supplying much of the hilarity.

"Fine Out for Romance," second feature on the bill, concerns the adventures of a runaway heiress and a highway Romeo who met right after she has jilted her for-

WE FIX ALMOST ANYTHING. Fix-It Shop, 105 E. 3rd.—Adv.

Prices are soaring skyward, and the city council last night acted to purchase a supply of water pipe before it increases in cost again.

Water Commissioner Joseph P. Smith told the council that his department needs about 10,000 feet of water pipe for use in the next few months in the general program of replacing two-inch water mains with larger-sized pipe.

City Clerk Ed Vegely was authorized to advertise for bids for the pipe, which will cost about $10,000. It was pointed out that the price of the pipe has advanced $3 a ton in the last few days, and is expected to increase about the same amount again in the near future.

The city clerk also was authorized to advertise for bids on about $2200 worth of fencing which will be used to enclose the city water works on First street and part of the municipal bowl.

MAID OF SALEM NEW TWIN BILL AT WALKER'S FOR STATE

Witchcraft days in Salem, Mass., in the early days is brought vividly to the present generation in "Maid of Salem," which comes to Walker's theater Wednesday for an engagement of four days. It tops the double bill, the other feature of which is "Sea Devils."

Claudette Colbert enacts the title role in "Maid of Salem," which depicts the frenzy in the little community occasioned when a witch scare breaks out. Miss Colbert, among others, is accused of "having the devil in her," and is saved from the gallows only by the timely return of a young adventurer from Virginia with whom she had previously fallen in love.

Others in the cast with Miss Colbert and Fred MacMurray, who plays the leading male role, include Harvey Stephens, Gale Sondergaard, Louise Dresser, Edward Ellis, Virginia Weidler and E. E. Clive.

"Sea Devils" is a drama of the coast guard. Victor McLaglen plays the role of a bosun's mate and Preston Foster a sailor who likes the ladies. McLaglen objects when Foster takes an interest in the former's daughter, played by Ida Lupino, and out of the squabbles develops most of the film's action.

Others in the cast include Donald Woods, Barbara Pepper, Billy Gilbert, Gordon Jones and Maxine Jennings.

Also on the bill are a colored cartoon and a newsreel.

MARCH FIELD. (P)—The annual exercises of the first wing of the army air corps, involving several hundred airplanes and about 1000 men, will take place from April 15 to 28 in the San Joaquin valley, Brig. Gen. Delos C. Emmons announced.

The exercises, under simulated war conditions, will involve every unit of March Field and Hamilton Field except the fourth air corps base squadron of March field.

Confirm Norton As Police Officer

Appointment of F. W. Norton as a city police officer was confirmed by the city council last night.

Norton had been recommended for the post by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns. He replaces L. F. Snodgrass, who was forced to move elsewhere because of the illness of his wife.

CECILIAN SINGERS Cecilian Singers will have a covered dish supper at 6 o'clock and rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock this evening, meeting first in the social hall of the First Methodist church and then adjourning to the auditorium. The chorus is now open for new members, and any who wish to affiliate are invited to join in the meeting this evening.

Starring Dick Purcell, "King of Hockey" comes to the State theater Wednesday for an engagement of two days, with "Killer at Large" as the second feature.

The plot of "King of Hockey" concerns the romance between a crack hockey player and a society girl, which threatens to land on the rocks when the girl suspects the hockey player is being paid off by gamblers to throw games.

In the cast with Purcell are Anne Nagel, Marie Wilson, Wayne Morris, George E. Stone, Joseph Crehan and Gordon Hart.

Mary Brian, Russell Hardie and Betty Compson are starred in "Killer at Large," a murder mystery in which Miss Brian plays a store detective, Hardie a jewelry salesman and Miss Compson a woman of mystery.

Also on the bill are a short subject featuring George Hall's orchestra, a Ken Murray comedy and a cartoon.

BOY ADMITS SET $600,000 FIRE

ZION, Ill. (P)—Thomas Griffith, 19, was held in jail here after he confessed, Police Chief Alven Ruesch said, he set fire to the famed Shiloh tabernacle and radio station WCBF because he wanted "to get even" with Wilbur Glenn Voliva, pontiff of the Christian Apostolic church.

Chief Ruesch quoted the youth as saying he poured kerosene on lumber stored beneath the floor and ignited it. The three-story wooden structure burned last Friday with a loss which Voliva estimated at $600,000.

Chief Ruesch said Griffith confessed voluntarily when he feared four innocent men were being suspected.

Quezon Denies Militant Plan

NEW YORK. (P)—Commonwealth President Manuel Quezon replied here to charges he was militarizing the Philippines with the contention he was building a citizen army of peace.

The Filipino leader defended the island's new military program before the Foreign Policy association, which had criticized the organization developed under direction of General Douglas MacArthur.

The compulsory military training of youths, Quezon said, was modeled after that of Switzerland and was supplemented by only a small professional force.

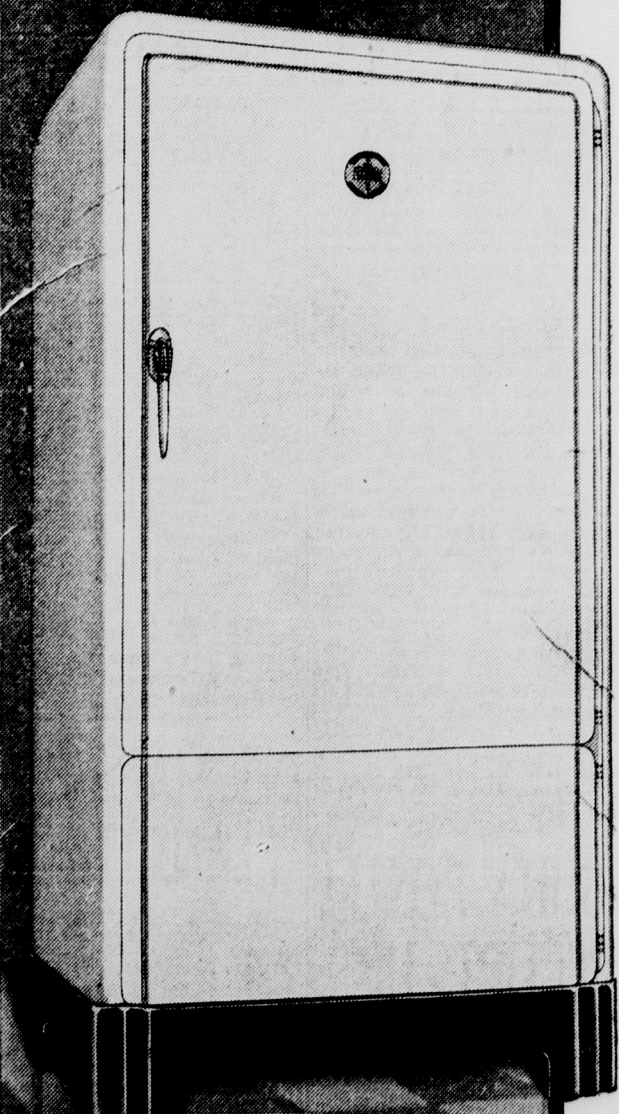

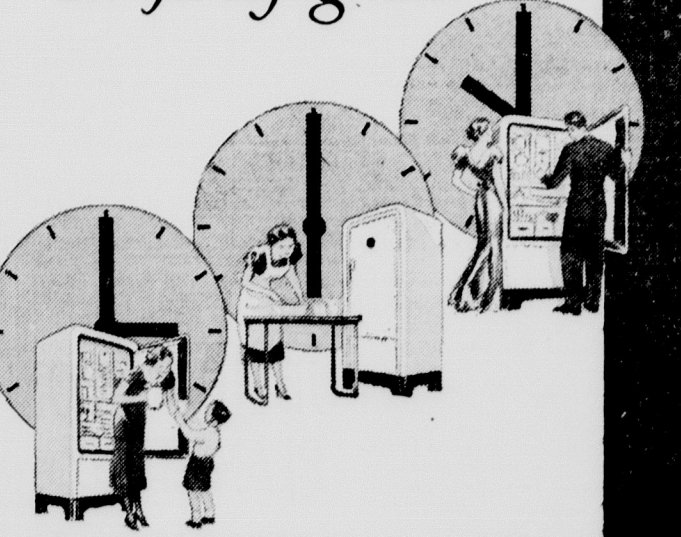

AULD LANG SYNE Mrs. Kate Bradford will entertain Auld Lang Syne group at its monthly all-day meeting Wednesday, entertaining at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Stedman, 624 French street. There will be a covered dish luncheon at noon.

CITY TO ACT ON PARKING PROBLEM

Plan to Eliminate All Loading Zones Not Needed or Used

Santa Ana's city council launched a drive of its own today to help solve the perplexing parking problem.

The drive was started at a meeting of the city council last night when Jules Markel, prominent contractor and member of the county planning commission, vociferously protested the parking situation, which he said was hindered by the use of too much space by the two taxicab companies.

Committee Named
Discussion ended with the council acting to eliminate all possible yellow loading zones and naming a committee including City Engineer J. L. McBride to make a survey of all loading zones and report back to the council.

It is hoped that loading zones not needed, or which were located at places where they are not now in use, can be eliminated and thereby increase the parking space. Motion passed by the council will definitely abolish loading zones on Broadway on the east side of the street near Third street, and one near the south end of Sycamore near Third street. Resolutions will be adopted by the council to make the action effective.

Shows Photographs
The protest made by Markel regarding the alleged excess space used by the cab companies was referred to Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns and Street Commissioner William Penn.

Markel showed members of the city council photographs to prove that one of the cab companies not only used the space allocated to it by the council, but also used the yellow loading space adjacent. Markel said that business men could never find room to park their cars, unless they paid to park them in parking lots or parked blocks away.

City Attorney L. W. Blodget made a suggestion to help solve the parking problem. He suggested that service stations which receive permission to cut curbs for driveways, cost money in a trust fund, which could be used to replace the curbing and make for more parking in case the driveways are abandoned.

Smith May Attend Sewage Conference

Authorization for Water Commissioner Joseph P. Smith to attend a spring conference of the California Sewage Works commission at Stockton April 23 and 24 was made by the city council last night.

Councilman Smith is to investigate the nature of the meeting, and decide whether or not he deems it of sufficient importance to attend. The conference will deal with sewage collection and disposal problems.

Boy and Parents Sued Over Crash

Rollin Harrison Drake and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Drake, are named defendants in a $845 damage suit on file today in Santa Ana justice court, with Gertrude Mattes as plaintiff.

She charges that Drake, a minor, was responsible for an accident last Dec. 18 on East First street, in which she was injured. N. D. Meyer filed the complaint.

Prince Yasuhiro Chichibu and his princess (above) are shown as they arrived in Vancouver, B. C., on their way to London to attend the coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. City Will Launch Work on Storm Drain Unit May 1

As the end of the fiscal year draws nearer, Santa Ana's city council is starting to pinch the pennies closer than ever.

Unexpected expenditures in emergency work on the outfall sewer ate into the surplus, and next year's total expenditures are expected by the council to amount to more than those of the current year, which closes June 30.

At an informal session yesterday afternoon members of the council gave considerable thought to approval of a new WPA project for completion of the Seventeenth street storm drain, because of the financial expenditure involved.

The project will cost the city about $20,431, and the WPA will put up $34,792. Efforts will be made by the city to secure part of its share of the cost from the quarter-cent gasoline tax and from city fines applicable to street work.

Convinced of the necessity of completing the flood control project, the council last night authorized City Engineer J. L. McBride to start work on the project not later than May 1. The WPA has approved the project, which will complete the storm drain from Flower street to the Mastick property, a distance of about three-quarters of a mile.

The council also gave the engineer a minute order to proceed with work on the WPA project which will result in construction of a sewer line on Roe drive.

FALL FATAL TO NEW MODJESKA BABY GIRL RELICS HERE

Stunned by a fall to the floor at her Los Angeles home hours before, 19-months-old Nancy Ann Muron died early Sunday in Fullerton General hospital. The coroner's office here is investigating.

Her mother, Mrs. Amelia Muron, told physicians that Nancy Ann had fallen Saturday evening as the family was preparing to come to Anaheim to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. Anton.

After their arrival in Anaheim, they noticed the child appeared dizzy. They called a physician, who ordered the child taken to the hospital. She died at 6 a. m. Sunday, presumably from skull fracture.

Asks $10,000 for Crash Injuries

Alleging that she suffered a cut lip and other injuries March 20 in a traffic collision with R. W. Taylor, Mrs. Birdine Walters yesterday filed a $10,000 damage action against Taylor.

She said the accident occurred in Fullerton, and charged Taylor with negligence.

Through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. James Willis Rice of Tustin, who have treasured in their family for many years gifts given by the late Madame Modjeska to Mr. Rice's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rice, several lovely additions have been loaned to the Modjeska exhibit at Bowers Memorial museum.

Sandals of precious gold, jeweled, studded, bracelets, a jeweled armlet which Modjeska wore in her role as Cleopatra, a rosary of Russian garnets which was worn constantly by the late Count Charles Bozenta, husband of Madame Modjeska, are all included in the collection which has been loaned to the museum by the Rices.

"Probably Madame made no closer friends in this alien country than the Rices," Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator of the museum, stated in commenting on the addition, and naturally the museum feels that this affectionate relationship makes the loan all the more gracious."

RANCHER ARRESTED

Walter Whisenand, 57, La Habra rancher, was booked at the county jail Sunday night on peace disturbance charges by Constable W. B. Termaine.

POLICE RADIO PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL

Two-Way System With Remote Control Is To Be Used

Everybody was happy about Santa Ana's two-way police radio plan today.

Last night the city council, at the suggestion of City Attorney L. W. Blodget, adopted a motion approving the action of Police Commissioner Plummer L. Bruns in entering into an agreement with the county for the use of the sheriff's radio station, KGHX.

Blodget outlined the development which led up to the proposal made by the city of Santa Ana through the city attorney, Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and Bruns.

It first was suggested that Santa Ana have its own two-way police radio system, for use in broadcasting back and forth from patrol cars. Cost of the installation would have been about $1200.

Then Police Chief Howard was informed by the federal communications board that a protest had been registered from Orange county against the Santa Ana proposal. It was learned that Supervisor Willard Smith had made the protest, mainly because the wave length of the proposed Santa Ana station would be the same as that on which the county station operated.

Now the Santa Ana police will have the use of the county radio system when desired, at a cost less than that of the proposed two-way system for Santa Ana. It is expected that it will take about 60 days to secure the remote control permit.

Mrs. McNaught Is Given Nomination

Mrs. Laura McNaught, who has served as vice president of the club during the past year, was nominated last night as president of the Business and Professional Women's club for the coming year. The election will take place April 19.

Other nominees are Miss Dorothy Decker for first vice president; Mrs. Edith Thatcher, second vice president; Miss Edie White, recording secretary; Mrs. Flora Clark, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Hilyard, treasurer; Mrs. Catherine Stinson, sergeant-at-arms; and Miss Lena Thomas, retiring president, and Miss Mable Cole, for directors. Speaker of the house at last night's meeting in the Doris-Kathryn tea shop were one and the same—Donald Cram, public relations officer for the National Reemployment service, who sang a number before dinner, with accompaniment by Mrs. Marie Fowler, a club manager. Later he spoke to the group on the subject of "The Social Security Act."

Walter Hill Gets His Saddle Back

Walter Hill, Midway City rancher and son of the late James J. Hill, railroad magnate, finally has found his saddle.

Alone a year ago Hill reported to the sheriff's office theft of a $150 saddle from his property. Yesterday Thomas B. Williamson, 36-year-old Santa Ana iceman, was in the county jail charged with burglary as the result of a sheriff's office investigation. Deputy Sheriff James Musick arrested Williamson Saturday, and the prisoner was booked under $500 bail pending trial.

S. A. Party sees Parachute Mishap

Fate brought four Santa Anans to the scene Sunday when a parachute jumper fell through high tension electric lines at the South Gate airport and narrowly escaped death.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKenzie and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McDonald, returning from a desert trip, arrived at the airport just as the jumper, George Williams, met with his accident.

A breeze carried the jumper away from the landing field and against the 10,000-volt line. His parachute was burned, but he escaped without injury.

Invite Griggs To Park Conference

The city council was urged last night to send Park Superintendent Dale Griggs to a conference to be held at Griffith Park clubhouse next Friday.

A letter received from William H. Nichols, park superintendent of Pasadena, urged the council to send Griggs to the meeting, which will be for the exchange of ideas on park development and care. The matter was referred to the city forestry board.

BIG AIR SHOW BREAKFAST PLANNED

Local Club Sponsors Affair for Event Here June 20

Plans for Santa Ana's first annual aviation show, to be staged June 20 at the Martin Airport, began to take definite form today.

The big celebration and show will open in the morning with an aviation breakfast, sponsored by the Santa Ana Breakfast club, it was announced yesterday by Dale Decker, who is in charge of arrangements for a chamber of commerce committee.

Breakfast will be served to a big crowd in the hangars at the airport, it was announced, prior to the program of the day, which will include every type of aviation activity possible. Many manufacturers of famous airplanes will display their models for the new year, and these new planes will be flown on exhibition.

Decker yesterday also announced appointment of several committees which will have charge of various features of the one-day event.

William Jerome, Jr., was named chairman of the committee in charge of the big barbecue to be held for the pilots who will take part in the air show. He will be assisted by D. S. Richards and Paul Richards.

Jesse Elliott will be in charge of the policing and field arrangements. Tentative plans are being made to have the national guard unit camp at the airport the night before the air event, and then aid in policing the grounds the next day.

Oliver Lindemeyer is in charge of the committee which will place placards in out-of-town places, and John Lutz heads the committee which will extend invitations to pilots of western states to take part in the show and barbecue.

Senior 4-H Group Sees Boulder Dam

Senior 4-H club members from Orange county, with their parents and leaders, spent a thrilling time visiting Boulder dam and vicinity the past week-end. This trip was planned as part of the year's program for Senior 4-H members, according to Rose E. Crane, assistant farm advisor. County Purchasing Test Is Awaited

The courthouse today awaited an impending test of the power of Supervisor N. E. West to determine what make of typewriters may or may not be purchased for county officers.

County Auditor W. T. Lambert today had placed a requisition in the hands of Eugene Denelson, purchasing agent, for a typewriter of the make which West opposes.

West, pointing out that the R. A. Tiernan Typewriter company has sold 105 of that brand, for which it is exclusive county agent, while others have sold 12, contends the distribution of business is unfair.

Lambert today would not announce his next step, but said he was waiting to see what kind of machine the purchasing department delivers.

If it's anything but the brand Lambert specified, the fur will fly, bystanders believe.

PLANT IS TO GET BOARD APPROVAL

New Shop Practically Finished; Equipment Being Moved

Completion of the board of education's $830,000 building program at Santa Ana High school was in sight today.

The new shop building was practically completed today, and the board expects to meet to formally accept the $95,000 structure some day next week, it was revealed by Business Manager George Newcom.

Moving Started

Work has been started moving some of the heavy equipment from the print shop over to the new shop building, which also will house the woodwork, automobile, welding, machine shop and other vocational classes. None of the equipment being moved will be used until the board of education has accepted the building.

The shop building is about 280 feet long, stretching out for about a block, and approximately 100 feet wide. It is located back of the main unit on Pine street. The board plans to dismantle the old shop building sometime this summer. Cost of the new streets, tunnels and walks around the new unit is about $14,000.

Landscape Work

Work now is under way on the high school landscaping project, with installation of the sprinkling system and lawn work. Painting of the interior of the commercial and science building will be done as a separate project. There still is some painting to be done on the administration and science building, as well.

Completion of the new shop building ends the building construction program. When work is started on the new tennis court last of the extensive improvement program, launched after the buildings had been damaged by the earthquake of 1933, will be under way.

Ebell Speaker Sees Signs of Coming Democracy in Russian Constitution

Officers of Federation Honored Hospitality Group Arranges Tea Hour At Close of Day

With Maurice Hindus, Russian-born American citizen, as their speaker, members of Santa Ana Ebell club yesterday acted as hostesses to state, district and county officers and chairmen and representatives of clubs in Orange county at a delightful reciprocity day program and tea in their clubhouse on French street.

Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Ebell president, presided over the meeting, welcoming the distinguished visitors and introducing them at the end of the afternoon. Students from the junior college were also guests at the meeting.

The entire program period was turned over to Mr. Hindus, who spoke to a crowded auditorium on the subject of "What's Happening to the Russian People?"

As a journalist, Mr. Hindus has gone through three revolutions—the Chinese, the Russian, and the German—and he realizes that the very things that the American people enjoy today have come through revolution.

On the most recent of his yearly visits to Russia, his native land, Mr. Hindus noted many changes, the most outstanding a relaxation of discipline and an attempt on the part of the government to bring lightness into the country.

Other changes were noted in food habits; in building, which is going on everywhere; in the wearing of bathing suits; in the new attitude toward marriage, morality, and the family, with divorces less cheap and with large families, subsidized by the government; in introduction of machinery, large scale farming, and scientific methods into agriculture, and in the attitude toward women, to whom is open everything open to men.

Signs of democracy, which he believes actually does carry out its guaranteed economic rights to a job for everyone, annual vacations with full pay for all, and free education for all, but does not observe its guaranteed rights of freedom of speech, of press, of assembly, or demonstration, of secrecy of correspondence, the speaker sees nevertheless the language of democracy and incentive to the people to think in terms of democracy.

In a conversation, every fiber of my soul that Russia, if its revolution is left alone, will and must become a democracy," he said, in summing up his observations.

Contrasting the dictatorships of Russia and Germany, the lecturer pointed out that the first aims to be a temporary dictatorship, the time when Russian industry and Russian people will be ready for the civil liberties which the constitution guarantees them; while the German dictatorship is admittedly permanent.

War in Europe? Not for two or three years, according to Hindus, and maybe not then—primarily because Hitler "has the fastest pair of legs in the diplomatic world."

As to religion, the speaker summarized that situation by saying that there is no interference with worship but that youth is being brought up a godless race. What will come of this, he does not know.

Greetings From District At the close of the lecture, Mrs. Rowland introduced Mrs. Mary Stewart, president of Southern district, California Federation of Women's clubs, who brought greetings from the district.

Other visitors introduced were Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, first vice president of the district and state chairman of literature; Mrs. George Foster, president of San Bernardino county federation; Mrs. Emerson Holt, president of Riverside county; Mrs. George Bunnell of Redlands, state federation treasurer; Mrs. H. Searle, district corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. Miller, first vice president of the county; Mrs. J. G. McCracken of Santa Ana, district art chairman; Mrs. C. M. Deakins of Newport Beach, district gardens chairman; Mrs. Emrys White, district chairman of Juniors; Mrs. F. Douglas, county corresponding secretary; and Mrs. H. E. Denyse of Riverside and Mrs. Clark McEwen, past district presidents.

Mrs. Maxwell Burke and her courtesy committee greeted the guests in the foyer, with Mrs. E. D. White, Mrs. C. V. Davis and Mrs. Paul Bailey assisting in receiving.

At the close of the afternoon, the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. C. S. Kendall, served a beautifully appointed tea in the Peacock room, where a lace covered table had been centered with purple and white lilies and tall ivory tapers in crystal holders.

Your Baby Book

By BETTY COX

We've been having colds and whooping cough and all kinds of ugly things during these last cold days. But yesterday's sunshine made getting outdoors fun again and warmed us up so that we feel much better, thank you, and expect to keep on feeling that way.

Shut in on Easter Sunday, the daughter of the Cassius Pauls, has been having the worst siege, with the old whooping cough that just hangs on and hangs on. She's doing her best to wear it out, and we think the worst is over now.

Shirley Stauffer has recovered from a very bad cold; and Sonny Harold, Jr., Dale caught one, we understand, the day he wore his very first set of real men's underwear.

To our Baby Book yard this week come several little newcomers whom we are glad to introduce, among them Peter Newman, who will be two years old on July 27.

Peter is a blond with big, blue eyes, and he's quite tall for his age. When we called yesterday, he was just going out to feed his two little baby chicks whom he adores, and then he always feeds his pony, "Geegee," every day, so he is really quite a busy little boy.

Being a real boy, of course he is extremely interested in cars and trucks and everything on wheels. He puts words to words, now into very original phrases, not quite sentences, and as for walking and running, Peter can get around as well as any of them.

Among the very newest of the newcomers is a little St. Patrick baby, appropriately named Mary Patricia. Born on the 17th of March, the day when we were all "wearing the green," Mary Patricia, who is the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howe of 821 North Baker street, is now at home and weighs eight and one-half pounds.

She has just lots of black hair and big blue eyes and is very pretty, we are told. And she has little rolls of fat around her tiny neck. Being so young, she hasn't done anything startling yet, but we think we'll hear more of her as she gets used to this world around her, and we're glad to welcome her into our Baby Book circle this week.

Blonde and dark-eyed—with such beautiful, big dark eyes—is little Charlene Berry, daughter of the George Berry's of 1308 West Fifth street, who came to call on us just after her second birthday on the 29th of March.

Charlene had her first party on that second birthday anniversary, and wore her pretty new Easter dress which was of yellow net over tulle, with tulle sash and tiny ruffles of lace.

She likes picture books and magazines and dolls for playing in the house, but she also likes to play outdoors, and her best pal out there is her dog, "Neddy."

Charlene has traveled considerably for her age, going to Iowa last summer with her dad and mother.

to walk downtown instead of riding on that very handsome kiddy cart he came down in yesterday. Robbie seems to have escaped these colds and other things going around, and is looking mighty healthy and happy.

Among the older boys in our book this week is Pierre Gaston, who will be five on April 18. Pierre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Gaston of East Twentieth street, and has brown hair and dark brown eyes. He is a real outdoor boy, fond of his two-wheel bike which he can ride with skill.

His mother was yellow and brown chiffon and Tallman roses.

Mrs. Simon was dressed in a doublet lace, with American beauty corsage. Mrs. Porter, in blue georgette, Mrs. Pixley in figured chiffon and Mrs. Huff in cream lace, all with gardenia corsages.

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by a trio in which were Barbara Robinson, violin; Bianche Patton, cello, and Mary Robinson, piano. The bride-to-be is one of the most popular of the young set of friends, and her fiancé is connected with the First National bank of Santa Ana.

Two supper parties marked last week for two different groups of friends, and on Sunday a small party of friends were entertained at dinner to honor their host's new commission as major in the army. The series will conclude with another supper and evening tomorrow.

The buffet supper last night came after a tour of the home, which was brought with roses and raffles and a game of bridge. Enjoying last evening's party were the Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Foggy, Horace Stevens, Herbert Miller, Richard Emison, Edward Hall and Wilbur Barr; Dr. and Mrs. John Ball, Dr. and Mrs. Dexter Ball, Miss Dorothy Foggy, and Arthur Bradley, all of Santa Ana; Miss Winnie Fred Jacobs and Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, visitors from Panama at the Barr home; Col. James O'Reilly of Los Angeles, and the host and hostess.

An enjoyable picnic amid the wildflowers of the desert was enjoyed by members of the L. R. Stearns family. They drove first to Palm Springs, and then had their lunch in Palm canyon, driving back in the evening through the snow at Idyllwild.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stearns were Mrs. Jessie Bartlett and Miss Gerlie Sims of Indianapolis, and Mrs. A. E. Koller and daughter Dorothy and son Richard, Mrs. Mattie Miller and son Harold, Thomas Moody of Los Angeles, and the two Stearns sons, Willard and Chester.

A farewell of gaiety, rather than of sorrow, was bidden Mrs. and Mrs. Bob Redington of Los Angeles at Saturday night's Fifty-Fifty club dance, for their fellow members later plan to share vicariously in the thrill of the European trip for which they will depart April 8.

The long banquet table set at the Villa Riviera in Long Beach was beautifully decorated with a fantastic ship with purple sails, upon a long white tablecloth.

Yellow roses accented the brilliant purple and white that were a double compliment to Mr. Redington who is exalted ruler of the Elks lodge in his city.

Baskets of spring flowers further decorated the table around which were seated members and their guests. Highlights of the evening were the presentation of three new members and their wives, the H. B. Greens of Toluca Lake, the Earl Beeches of San Marino, and the Leland Finleys of Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolcott, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ingram acted as hosts and hostesses.

Several very beautiful gowns were noted during the evening, among them Mrs. Wolcott in ginger tulle, Mrs. Ross Ingram in white crepe, and Mrs. Fleming in blue and white. Mrs. Redington in blue lace with camellia corsage, Mrs. Verlin Anderson in blue crepe with gardenia and violets, Mrs. E. F. Bunting in gold brocade, Mrs. LeRoy Burns in white and gold, and Mrs. Wayne Harrison in green chiffon, Mrs. Ewald Lemke in blue satin and net, Mrs. Everett Lutz in blue and white, and Mrs. Earl Buehler in blue and white.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Joel Ogle of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brown of Pasadena, Miss Mildred Lewis and Don Lewis of Los Angeles, Miss Evelyn Le Suor and Ray Wilson of Los Angeles, and Miss Wilson and D. Y. Byrne of Santa Ana.

Members present were the Messrs. and Mesdames Roy Wolcott, Rose Ingram, Bob Redington, Stanley Horton, P. E. Bruns, LeRoy Burns, William Grafton, Wayne Harrison, Clyde Hill, Ray Huneke, Riley Huber, Ewald Lemke, Everett Lutz, Bob McCoy, Lawrence Mitchell, Bill Queale, James Tuma, Irving Wardman, Eugene LeRoy, Joe Whelan, the Messrs. HORTON HOME IS SCENE OF BUFFET SUPPER

Another of the pleasant little dinner parties of last week-end that fostered enjoyable informality was the buffet supper given Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Horton at 2475 Heliotrope drive.

Their home was gay with spring flowers of all shades, blending prettily with the dainty linens at which guests were served. Gentlemen ranked high at the bridge which completed the evening, with first and second high prizes going to Bernard Parker and Roscoe Conklin.

Guests of the Hortons were Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Miller and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hersher.

MARY STODDARD Missionaries Needed Here In U. S. To Stamp Out Evil of Child Marriage

By MARY STODDARD

Do you remember when "Parson's Daughter" wrote us around Thanksgiving time? I enjoyed her letter so much, because it was a thoughtful, philosophical reflection. Now again today she writes us on a subject of importance. It is a real pleasure to hear from her opinions. Dear Miss Stoddard: I intended writing this outburst over a month ago, but it is indeed true that "Procrastination is the thief of time."

Anyway, I hope it is not too late because I feel the subject at hand is well worth discussion and that much good might be derived by dragging the thing right out into the open.

I refer to the epidemic of child marriages that is sweeping our free America. Now and again a little drama, which confronts us on a news page, convinces us that we are still a thousand miles from the shore, though we sing no blithely of our spacious skies and our amber folds of grain.

After a flood, the sun will shine, the waters will recede, and a mighty people will add the destined citizens in a vital reconstruction program, that we know.

Equally important, in its own way, is the law which will permit a little 9-year-old girl to marry a 22-year-old man. Yet, in Tennessee, a tall young man bought a 9-year-old child a doll, then asked a minister they met on the road to marry them.

They loved each other, they said, and the juvenile bride's mother explained that her daughter had wanted to marry the tall boy ever since the family had come to live in the community.

Neither the bride's nor the bridegroom's parents intend to contest the marriage, it was announced. Therefore, officials are powerless to annul it, the story continues, as there are no laws in Tennessee which regulate marriage ages when the parents of the contracting parties consent.

Marriage is an adult union in which two people with a clear understanding of the joys, trials and vicissitudes of life agree that they want to share whatever the fates and their own initiative bring.

A little girl who is at the real, writing and spelling age, a little girl who got a bigger thrill over a new doll than she could have felt over a circle for her engagement finger, can have no conception of what a shared life means. She is a child, too young yet to ask questions about a lot of things.

Only one who has lived at least twice nine years can promise to cherish another in sickness and in health, in fortune and in adversity. Reasoning and understanding, after all, should have some part in a nuptial ceremony.

We have waited much in our press and our pulpits because the lands to the far east formerly followed a peculiar custom of marrying their children at the kindergarten age.

Yet, even in those lands, the marriage was little more than a ceremony announcing a betrothal. Real matrimony began later in life.

Now in Tennessee this child marriage points the way to a situation which shows the need of home missionary work in the glorious land of the free.

We are not so far removed from bondage in our marital status, in spite of the privileges and rights which we, as citizens of a democracy, share.

We permit people to marry so easily there is small wonder many marriages are failures. Then, in many states, we refuse to grant release to those who are victims of an intolerable situation. Not for one moment do I believe that a man or woman should be free to marry and divorce, marry and divorce, in progression.

If marriage laws were uniform and severe enough there would be less call for divorces. Then when the need came, there would be a reason and we would not have the desire to bind two people in wedlock no longer holy.

If marriage laws were strict, little girls would read Mother Goose books instead of assuming responsibilities they cannot possibly perform. Sincerely, PARSON'S DAUGHTER.

Nomination of officers for the coming year was the chief piece of business before the Southern section of the Kindergarten-Primary association when the Orange county division entertained the other branches at Laguna Beach Saturday.

Named for election to offices in the section were Miss Dorothy Voorhies of Orange county, for president; Miss Janey Ven der Veer of Cardiff, first vice-president; Miss Dorothy Hamilton of Santa Monica, second vice-president; Miss Clarissa Bacon of Santa Monica, recording secretary; Mrs. A. Agnes of Glendale, corresponding secretary; and Miss Nadine Booe of Los Angeles, treasurer.

Mrs. Mattie Edmonds, president of the Orange county Kindergarten-Primary association, presented the program, introducing Mrs. Hill, director of mental hygiene and child welfare in the state department of education, and at the luncheon Dr. Carl S. Knopf, professor of Biblical literature and archaeology at the University of Southern California.

Mrs. Margaretha Bolte, president of the Orange county Kindergarten-Primary association, presented the program, introducing Mrs. Hill, who declared that the great goal of education is the socialization of the individual. Schools, she said, should be primarily concerned with helping a child learn to live happily with children of his own age.

Dr. Knopf, as the luncheon speaker, spoke emphatically to the effect that, as a people, Americans are faced with three alternatives—a crash, going pagan, and a reawakening to and re-emphasis on spiritual things.

Teachers, he pointed out, can play an important part in helping individuals arrive at this spiritual adulthood by bringing children into the right circle of culture.

Also on the program were songs by John Ferguson and cello numbers by Jack Lighthart, both of the Laguna High school faculty, the former accompanied by Jessie Riddell and the latter by McChesney Beebe; motion pictures of an activity in the Laguna schools shown by C. A. Van Loenen, the principal; and songs, of his own composition, by Cleo Allen Hibbs, Laguna composer.

Mrs. Eugenia West Jones of Los Angeles presented information on educational bills before the 1937 legislature; and Mrs. W. T. Curran, of the board of education at Garden Grove and chairman of child health and physical education of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, reported events surrounding defeat of a bill that the P-T. A. did not favor.

The Laguna Beach chamber of commerce printed and furnished the program.

St. Basil's was built in the 16th century by order of Ivan the Terrible. An unauthenticated story claims that the Czar had the cathedral architect's eyes removed when he completed his work so he would never be able to reproduce it.

SOCIETY OF THE RED CRESCENT... When the Turkish Red Cross Society was organized, Turkish soldiers, the majority of whom were Mohammedans, regarded the cross as of religious significance and raised a storm of protest. The emblem was changed to a red crescent, symbol of the Turkish empire, and the name of the society was changed in accordance.

A Fair Split on the Royalty

NOW THAT the O'Donnell Huntington Beach oil drilling bill has received a "do pass" recommendation from the assembly committee on oil industries, we can review the record and see what state officials are Orange county's true friends.

We certainly cannot confer this honor on Assemblyman O'Donnell. There is no mention in the whole measure of a share of the royalty for Orange county or Huntington Beach.

And we cannot award that status to Governor Merriam, for the governor is reported to have declared that he would not sign any bill which gives a portion of the royalty to our county or to the beach community mentioned.

The only state officials who have really gone to bat for local interests in the matter seem to have been our own Senator Westover and Assemblymen Watson and Kuchel.

In criticizing the situation, we want it clearly understood that we have no fault to find with the principle of making the big oil companies pay a higher and fairer royalty on the hundreds of thousands of barrels of publicly owned oil which they are pumping from under the tideland. We are for that idea 100 per cent.

But we do maintain that there should be a fair division of the royalty between the three political subdivisions affected—the state, with its ownership of the tideland pool, and Orange county and Huntington Beach which embrace the drilling sites from whence the wells are slant-drilled into the rich oil supply.

The unfair attitude attributed to Governor Merriam and exhibited by the rest of the legislature may cost this area thousands of dollars which rightfully belong to it.

A summer five degrees above normal is predicted by weather experts. Fine, that'll give us a chance to thaw out.

Those WPA Strikes

AMONG the oddest of the bizarre strikes now in headlines is the WPA sitdown at San Francisco. Relief clients there are striking against the relief pay scale in order to get public sympathy for a boost in the rate.

This kind of strike, however, is in reality a strike against the very people from whom it is hoped to get more money; for it is a strike against the taxpayers who pay to keep the WPA in operation.

The strikers probably overlook the fact that WPA is simply a temporary institution designed to relieve unemployment and help needy people until they get private jobs again, and that consequently WPA should not try to compete with private pay scales, or the whole purpose of the thing will be defeated.

Instead of trying to build up the WPA, workers would be wise to try to get off of it and back into regular industry. For recovery is going to come only when the masses of us find jobs in enterprises which contribute to the national wealth.

If relief workers crowd taxpayers too hard with strikes and whatnot, they may find one of these days that the taxpayers are unwilling to foot the bill any longer.

Our modern age: A 20-year-old model, with the names of 175 men on her list, is murdered after a big drunk.

It's the Same Old Story

WITH wars, earthquakes, glaciers, price increases, highway homicide, court reform and sitdown strikes upsetting the world, it's only natural for some folks to think that there's not much use in sticking around any longer unless it's merely to see what will happen next.

This warning seems to express the whole point: "The earth is degenerating in these days. There are signs that the world is speedily coming to an end. Bribery and corruption abound. Children no longer obey their parents. Every man wants to write a book and it is evident that the end of the world is speedily approaching."

But before taking it to heart, let us point out that it was written back in 2800 B. C. on an Assyrian tablet.

So cheer up. The world is going to keep right on revolving as usual, and anybody would be crazy to kick off for less than a million dollars.

The Securities and Exchange commission found it much easier to curb speculation when everyone was broke.

If Your Pet Behaves Queerly

THAT mad dog warning issued at Seal Beach by County Health Officer K. H. Sutherland should caution dog owners to observe their pets now that warm weather is here.

If your dog changes his accustomed behavior—becomes dull and listless, gets restless and is always on the go, turns sullen and goes around with its head down like a bear or suddenly becomes extremely affectionate—you will be wise to have it watched and guarded.

That old water test for hydrophobia is not to be depended upon. Often it doesn't work.

At the slightest suspicion your pet might have rabies, consult a veterinarian. A little care may prevent serious consequences.

Twenty years ago today we went to war to make the world safe for democracy—or something.

Correct This Goofy Situation

IF YOU eat your meals at home you pay no state sales tax on your food; but if you eat in a restaurant you are stuck. Nobody yet has given us a sane reason for this. It seems to be just one of those dumb things that legislatures sometimes do.

In the assembly, however, there is a move to correct the situation by passing a bill to exempt restaurant meals from the tax. This bill should be approved promptly.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Achievements of the deafened have proved that this affliction is not always a handicap. The most conspicuous example, of course, is the late Thomas A. Edison. Indeed, many believe deafness is a spur to successful endeavor. It has chivvied many out of ruts.

Young Howard Hughes, who has proved the most recent spectacular pilot of the skies, can scarcely hear the roar of his engines. And his illustrious uncle Rupert is a lip reader always in high demand in the literary marts and as a public orator. And is an accomplished musician.

Royal Brown, who turns out such fascinating love idylls, is stone deaf. Rex Cole, the refrigerator tycoon, is partially deaf and the late editor Ray Long could not hear in one ear. And Idwal Jones, who writes such beautiful prose, is also an ear cupper.

There are many more notable examples. Such as Marconi and Ellen Glasgow, the novelist. Actors like especially to perform for the hard of hearing because they are reputedly not only the most attentive but the most appreciative of humor and dramatic skill.

Candour in a Bronx bakery: "Pies like mother used to make 5 cents. Pies like mother used to try to make—10 cents."

The three-cent hash houses on the Bowery have no squeamishness among customers. In surroundings repulsive to the average diner, the outcasts—mostly mendicants—eat and with apparent gusto. There is sawdust on the floor and ceilings are often a crawling blanket of cockroaches. Menus are frosted on the windows and a filling meal may be secured for 1 cent. Nobody talks or removes his hat in the hash house. The waiters are smugly aproned, beetle browsed—and one cheep from a customer and out he goes on his ear. A man who owns a chain of these cheap eateries is said to live in splendor up town. He was pointed out to me lunching at the Ritz one day.

Burton Holmes is among the increasing number of kimono addicts about his apartment. He receives guests so clad, as do Roy Howard and numerous others who have spent much time in the Far East. Noel Coward goes in for kimonoas when turning out a play and so does Cole Porter when in the throes of tune tinkering. Adolph Menjou has a notable supply. A department store has opened a man's kimono section.

Noel Coward's collapse which closed his box office hit has long been predicted not only by his physicians but his friends. For five years now he has been burning the candle at both ends with his theatrical life. He likes to ride a success only for a quick gallop and then swing to a fresh mount. He is so busy with ideas that he sleeps only a few hours nightly. Now he must have absolute rest for a year. He is in his early thirties a millionaire. And they say is becoming tired of it all.

A page boy in a fussy hotel tells me one of his steady sources of income is from a philanderer for whom he poses as an office boy over the phone to the man's wife. Once or twice a week the philanderer and a charmer drop into one of the hotel's tea rooms where the page is stationed. When he sees them he immediately goes to the phone to announce to the wife it was her husband's office and he had been detained and would not be home for dinner. New York!

The busman's holiday idea is strikingly illustrated at the Kit Kat club—currently in favor as an early morning rendezvous. A large percentage of the customers are the proprietors of other night clubs who flock there after their own places have shuttered.

There's a wince watching owners of those tiny portable eat and drink stands move across town after midnight. Entire investments are not more than $30, including the wagons. Yet from these skeletal beginnings many manage to rear families. They are on the job from 7 a. m. until midnight, constantly harried by prodding policemen. Notwithstanding any number have become owners of prosperous big stores. One new affluent was once known along Delancey street as Joe, The Hokey-Pokey man.

The Merry-Go-Round FLOWERS

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—The best definition of Cordell Hull's ideas on U. S. neutrality was given by him to some visitors who discussed that subject with him the other day.

They proposed that a provision be inserted in the neutrality bill making war unlawful unless the United States actually was invaded; also providing for impeachment of any president getting the United States into war.

Secretary Hull thought this over carefully, then replied:

"You know, I'm a pacifist. But I was born in a little Tennessee town where the mountaineers came down every Saturday afternoon with two guns strapped to their hips and usually roaring drunk—in fact, more often drunk than not."

"And I found that if you showed any timidity toward those fellows—if you ran from them—they shot at you in a minute. But if you just ignored them, they never bothered you."

"Now as a nation, we've got to do the same thing. We've got to stand our own ground. We've got to show that we are strong. And if congress adopted any commitment like that, barring us from making war, every nation in the world would be destroying our commerce and insulting our flag."

GOVERNMENTAL ESPIONAGE
The discovery of microphones in the office of the governor of Colorado has been just a bit embarrassing to Morrison Shafroth, chief counsel of the bureau of internal revenue.

Reason is that the microphones obviously were put there for the purpose of getting the goods on Gov. Teller Ammons in his conversations with various people, and they were placed there by Shafroth's own law firm.

To have law partners spying on a Democratic governor who is extremely friendly to Roosevelt doesn't help Shafroth much in his new job, even though he is an ardent New Dealer.

A bit embarrassing to Senator Edwin Johnson also is the fact that the microphones apparently were put in place before Senator Johnson left office as governor of Colorado.

SENATE ROOKIES

Senate old-timers are a bit taken aback at the aggressiveness of several Senate freshmen. Although they took office only three months ago, they have had more to say than most rookies of two or three years' experience.

The group includes both of Florida's new senators, Pepper and Andrews; Oklahoma's Lee, Louisiana's Ellender, and both of Iowa's initiatives, Gillette and Herring. On the fringe is Delaware's 70-year-old rookie, Senator Hughes.

Notes: Among the mutes, most silent is New Jersey's Senator Smathers, who has not even come to Washington to present himself in the senate.

Meet Your Neighbor

Name: Mrs. L. Blanche Darling. Birthplace and Date: Ohio. Home Address: Garden Grove. Occupation: Homemaker.

Hobby: Music. What civic improvement should Santa Ana have next? A real park.

What bit of news interested you most recently? Should the supreme court have more members?

How do you like the Journal's "Chat With Betty" radio program? I enjoy it very much.

What do you consider the greatest problem ahead of the world today? How to keep out of international disputes.

What has been your most embarrassing moment? Trying to walk out without paying for my lunch.

Frederick the Great one day caught one of his pages in the act of stealing snuff from the royal snuff box. He saw the boy thru an open window, and the act of impertinence rather irritated him.

"Do you like that snuff box?" he called out. The page, reddening to the tips of his ears, stammered that he thought it was pretty.

"Well, then, take it my boy," said the king, "it is not large enough for both of us."

SCHOOL CROSSINGS

To the Editor: The Ernest L. Kellogg post Veterans of Foreign Wars realizing the great good your paper is doing in so many ways, we, the veterans who served on foreign soil and foreign waters in time of war, in fact all wars, endorse your policies and stand willing to support them. In connection with our traffic problem could you find space in your valuable paper for the following extract from the vehicle code, as I am employed as a crossing guard at Roosevelt school, I feel I am in a position to realize what it will mean.

Chapter 6, section 511-1—While passing a school building or a ground thereof, contiguous to the highway during school recess or while children are going or leaving such school during opening or closing hours or while the playground of any such school is in use by school children the speed limit is 15 miles per hour, and that means when entering such zone, many drivers enter this zone at 30 to 45 miles and make an attempt to slow down (sometimes).

This is in connection with a Safety First campaign by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Thanking you for past favors, I am,

GEORGE E. HUBBARD, Adjutant.

WHY NOT PARKING METERS?

To the Editor: A few days ago a customer of mine, very much put out at the parking situation in Santa Ana remarked: "I live eight miles from Santa Ana, but my husband and I do practically all of our shopping in Long Beach. We can never park near the shopping district, and my husband gets mad every time he comes here."

We merchants realize the seriousness of this problem and also are aware of the tremendous loss of business on account of it. While I was against the parking meters at first, because I thought the shoppers wouldn't like paying every time they parked, I believe it should be put up to the people themselves. This lady thought it would be a good thing.

In such a little investigation as to whether towns with these meters on a 5-cent basis, have improved their parking situation facilities would pay us big dividends. Why not have a little coupon which people could fill out and mail? Something 3x4, just asking whether or not they favor parking meters, inserted in your paper.

Another suggestion, if these were not put in, is to have some of the men who are at school crossings, put in some of their time doing this. We do have a very efficient police force here, and we can't load too much on the small force we have.

A. L. McVOY, Santa Ana.

One Man's Opinion

POOR LIL UMBERTO

They hadn't named him yet when this piece was written. One day down in Rome a uniformed officer of the court appeared at the door of the royal palace and tied blue and white silk ribbons on its outside. Guns boomed.

The newspapers announced that there had been born to Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and to Princess Marie Jose, daughter of the late King Albert of Belgium, a second child, their first son, "who may some day be king of Italy."

Note the "may some day." Twenty-five years ago the statement "I wouldn't have been thus qualified. Early in this century the fate of kings and princes seemed so secure that no news writer would have thought of saying anything less than 'he will some day be king of Italy.'"

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Strayed into the ever-welcome presence of Tax Collector John Lamb. He's one guy I never kick about paying taxes to. John went home for several weeks to think about his health instead of taxes. He's back again because the boys at the office will begin to collect the last half, which is due April 20. If you do not pay the last half, the state will carry you, but they make the carrying charges rather heavy.

It will soon be unusual if it don't rain.

Lot o' talk going on about inflation, and then along comes Gene Kahan who recommends it to me. It will be all right if he would make provision for the necessary change in shoe size, and when I request that protection he says oh, well, maybe you better get along like you are. If you changed no one would know you. When I wear a hat, that happens.

'Steen times yesterday my attention was called to the beautiful California weather, and by the same people who did not have anything to say in its favor last January.

Those orange growers who think they escaped with a five and ten per cent frost damage may be in for a headache. The latest report is to use the X-ray at the rate of 22,500 oranges an hour and have a complete diagnosis of each one before it is shipped. And they will soon be shipping. So the answer isn't far off.

James Sleeper is home from Sacramento where assessments were discussed by the tax assessors and chopped up some by the fellows who pay the freight. The state legislators make the budget, and then the tax payers are called upon to furnish the money needed to keep the machinery oiled. Few states fail to find ways and means for using all the money collected. And there are so many different forms of taxes that hardly a transaction escapes. But it isn't Sleeper's fault.

Jules Markel has put up a fence around the First Presbyterian church and the old home won't look like it used to when he is through with it. A fine edifice is to take the place of the present structure which Jules is going to raze and then raise another.

Displays of lawn furniture make one realize that "the good old summer time" is almost in the back yard or on the front porch. It's luxurious appearance sort of gives you the siesta feeling. It's certainly beautiful and colorful, and if I owned a nice green lawn, I would just love to adorn it with some of the restful handwork of manual art.

In a three-cornered conversation with Ed Cochems, P. C. Dietler re: making life more colorful, and P. E. wants a photograph of it. Color in life is becoming more intriguing all the time. We see it at the movies, in photography, and sometimes on the end of an old sock's nose.

The height of optimism: Businessman collecting vacation literature and not going any place.

What's the use collecting more taxes? The more taxes the more commissions to absorb the taxes in overhead. We do not seem to be getting out of debt. Maybe the way to bail out of debt is to cut out the taxes. Nobody would work if they weren't paid for it. The system would close a lot of places now filled with mahogany top desks, silk shirts and bathing suits.

Packers are getting ready to make their first visit to the orange groves. Surveys are being made, more particularly for the purpose of getting box estimates than frost damage. The "run" will tell that story, but the field men can with uncanny accuracy give you the estimate in the number of boxes or oranges in your orchard.

The weather is improving. Get me down my walkin' cane, and hang up the overcoat. Put away the smudge pots and bring out the umbrella. Polish up the picnic utensils and lay in a stock of spring fever remedies. It looks like summer.

Plans are being made to observe International Boys' Week from May 1 to 8. It's a good idea. If we adults gave more attention to boys we would have better boys. Don't you remember when you were a "kid"? How you were thrilled when some man stopped to chat with you, or say hello when passing. Now we go along with our minds absorbed on business or golf or dinner appointments and the boys without ever a thought. When they get in trouble we cuss 'em and talk about what tough kids they are, but we never stop to give a word of encouragement or inquire how they are getting along before they get into trouble. Better make a resolution Boys' Week to become a boy yourself, and then you will get their viewpoint.
